RAIN BOMBS IN MONTGOMERY

SHOT ON BUS: Mrs. Rosa Jordan, shot in the leg while riding on a bus in Birmingham, Ala., recently, is shown being attended by a nurse at a local hospital. The bullet is still imbedded in Mrs. Jordan's leg, because doctors fear that the eight-months pregnant woman may give birth prematurely if an operation is attempted. This and later shootings, with Negro bus riders as targets, has greatly increased racial tensions in Alabama. (News-press Photo).

Top Officials To Tell Of School Integration At YM Forum Sunday

The rapidly-unfolding story of "Integration in the Public Schools" will be told graphically and authoritatively at the Monster Mass Meeting at the Senate Avenue YMCA Sunday at 3:30 p.m.

Governor George N. Craig, Mayor Phillip L. Bayt and other elected executives are expected to attend. Participating in the presentation of the integration story will be public school officials of four metropolitan cities.

They are Dr. Herman L. Shiller, general superintendent of Indianapolis public schools; Dr. Omer Carmichael, superintendent of Louisville public schools; Dr. Kenneth Lund, assistant superintendent of Chicago public schools and Dr. Harold Kaiser, assistant superintendent of Gary (Ind.) public schools.

JOHN J. JAMES, executive secretary of the State YMCA, says the meeting will be one of the most significant gatherings of state and city officials and public school officials held here in many a year.

Also in attendance and participating in the panel will be members of the Indianapolis Board of School Commissioners: Leo M. Gardner, president; Grant W. Hawkins, Morton Hansen, James Zoercher, William Bowman and Ralph W. Husted.

EACH PARTICIPANT will be allotted ten minutes for panel presentation following the introductory statement by Indianapolis' Dr. Shiller. The written question period will be conducted by Miss Phyllis Waters, school teacher and vice-president of the Indiana State Teachers Association, and Julian Coleman, assistant principal of Attucks high school.

Emory A. James, principal of School 26, will preside. Rev. William H. Weaver, assistant principal of School 44 will give the invocation and Miss Elizabeth Carter, president of the Pioneer Federation, will introduce the governor, mayor, school board members and principals and Pioneer sponsors.

A reception sponsored by the Pioneer Federation will be held after the meeting. Because of the national and local interest in the school desegregation problem, an overflow crowd is expected, including visitors from Louisville and a number of cities of Indiana.

BOOTH FOR ATTACKS HIGH SCHOOL GRADS

A novel feature, a registration booth will be installed at Butler Fieldhouse for the Attucks-Shortridge basketball game Tuesday, Jan. 15, by officials of the Attucks High School Alumni association.

The booth with Joe Sumers and Harry L. Pettie, co-chairmen of the Alumni's membership committee, will provide a convenient place for graduates of Attucks to register for membership in the Alumni association.

Another Negro-Hater Takes Seat In Senate

WASHINGTON (ANP) — Former Georgia Governor Herman Talmadge, the state's favorite son who is against just about everything and everybody but white folks, became a Senator in the U.S. Congress last week replacing retired solon Walter George.

Talmadge immediately vowed open war against any and all civil rights consideration. And while "Hummon" was vowing, he didn't fail to stigmatize President Eisenhower's "new look foreign policy" program.

The Senator, son of the late white supremacist Gene Talmadge, planned to join in the fight against liberal Democrats who seek to change the filibuster rule which has long been the grave-digger of civil rights.

politico. Talmadge frightened retired Sen. George out of seeking re-election simply by threatening to run against him.

"Young Hummon" pointed out that he would take it easy until he learned the Senate's procedures and traditions, but then hoped that he would make himself increasingly more difficult.

Talmadge commented upon the attempt of Northern Democrats to change the filibuster rule.

"There's no excuse for this move by Northerners. This country has gotten along pretty well for a long time with unlimited debate in the Senate, and the minority has a right to talk as long as it wants against civil rights measures," he said.

Negroes Defy Bus Segregation In Ga. Capital

ATLANTA—Open defiance of bus segregation swept into this citadel of advancing Southern culture Wednesday, tremendously increasing the crescendo of the crusade being staged by Negroes of the South against the inquisitions of oppressive racial discrimination.

The action of 12 Negro preachers in riding in the front seats of a public bus sent tremors reverberating through the Governor's office, out into the state and across the nation.

The group of prominent ministers, led by Dr. William Borders, pastor of the Wheat Street Baptist Church, following a plan drafted at a meeting Tuesday night, boarded a bus, seated themselves in the front section traditionally reserved for "whites only" and read passages from the Bible and chanted hymns.

As the bus started its trolley jumped the wire and while being reconnected, all but one of the white passengers got off.

A bus line dispatcher ordered the route sign changed to "special" to discourage any more white passengers.

THE NEGRO GROUP left the bus after travelling six blocks. No incidents of threats, attempted violence or intimidation was reported.

Reaction to the surprise demonstration brought swift action on the part of Governor Marvin Griffin.

Summoning 13 aides from the state adjutant general and legal offices, Gov. Griffin announced with undisguised gravity, that any more such breaches of the peace "will not be tolerated in any part of Georgia."

The embattled Georgia chief executive blamed out-of-state agitators for inspiring and planning the demonstration, the first open integration move to erupt in Atlanta.

THE GOVERNOR SAID he had instructed the officer in charge of the Georgia National Guard "to alert his forces in a standby status subject to call on a moment's notice."

The Atlanta protest against public segregation follows the pattern of similar movements now under way in other Southern cities, notably Montgomery and Birmingham.

SURVIVES HOODLUM'S ATTACK: Daniel Jennings, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lucas Jennings, 410 W. 14th, was stabbed in the chest by a teenage "toughie" who attacked Daniel as he came to the rescue of his brother, James, 12, a Recorder news carrier Thursday night last week. The attacker and two other teenagers, one of whom was found with a revolver in his possession, were arrested and held for investigation by the Juvenile Aid Division.

Daniel is justifiably all smiles as his mother, watches happily as Nurse Marjorie Dieckman checks his pulse. Surgeons said the blade plunged into the boy's chest narrowly missed his heart.

C. C. of Staunch Foe Of Compulsory FEPC Law

Proponents of an Indiana FEPC law with teeth may rest assured they will get no cooperation from the Indiana State Chamber of Commerce, Jack E. Reich, executive vice-president of the state businessmen's association, made that clear in an interview with a Recorder reporter last Friday.

The Recorder had already heard from Reich earlier, following an editorial on Dec. 8 chiding the state Chamber of Commerce on its opposition to a compulsory FEPC. The businessmen's letter, charging this paper with being unfair in not "giving all the facts," was subject of a front-page article in the Dec. 22 issue.

Pointing out that the "Indiana

Plan of Bi-Racial Cooperation" set up by the C. of C. during World War II to make use of the Negro potential in the civilian defense war effort was not being used at all, The Recorder editorial said: "Slow progress in fair employment practices in Indiana shows a need for something better than the present flimsy FEPC with no teeth and no well-organized plan for operating. The Indiana Chamber of Commerce, we think, should be more positive now and put in the place of its opposition to a compulsory FEPC some workable means of making fair employment practices in Indiana a real thing on a voluntary basis, if that can be done."

Nab Suspect in Hotel Robbery

A 21-year-old man, suspected of pulling the daring daylight $2520 robbery of the auditor's office of the Claypool hotel Dec. 27 was arrested Wednesday by two act detectives.

Detective Sergeants John Glenn and Garland Jones carefully stalked a trail that led through the picture files at police headquarters arrested William Taylor, 423 1/2 Indiana avenue on a preliminary charge of robbery.

His case was continued under $7,500 bond until next Tuesday in Municipal Court Room 3.

Mrs. "Margaret Phillips, victim, described the man who demanded the money as she went about her duties in the hotel auditor's office as colored, a red mask concealing his features and wearing white canvas gloves.

Detectives Jones and Glenn, tracking down many leads, spotted a picture of Taylor in police files and, after painting a mask over his features showed it to Mrs. Phillips.

She partially identified the photo as that of the man she said held her up.

Churches Lead Off In Move To Save Lockefield

The campaign by aroused Negro citizens to prevent the giant Lockefield Garden apartments from falling into the hands of investors who would operate it to disadvantage of Negro residents for their own profit, got official recognition in a substantial way when the first of a number of petitions urging the city to take control were presented to Mayor Phillip L. Bayt this week.

The first petition, circulated by the Committee To Save Lockefield, bearing 596 signatures was presented by Rev. C. Henry Bell, pastor of Mt. Paran Baptist Church.

A second, bearing 30 signatures was presented by a representative of St. Mark Baptist Church.

Attorney Henry J. Richardson, co-chairman of the Lockefield committee, said many other petitions, bearing more than 10,000 names are being completed and will also be presented the mayor.

MAYOR BAYT indicated this week he will make a decision as to whether the city will operate the 748-unit apartment project.

The federal government which has operated the huge housing project since its construction about 20 years ago through the Federal Housing Authority, offered to turn the project over to the city with the alternative that it would be sold to the highest bidder.

Shortly thereafter The Recorder learned that a small group of private investors planned legal and political maneuvers that would secure ownership and operation of the project to themselves.

By pulling some political strings, interested buyers could purchase the $7,500,000 housing project for a sum as low as $1 million which would make their ven-

Bayt Pushes Plan for New Recreation Center

The proposed $1 million Flanner House recreation center got a push closer to the construction stage by Mayor Phillip Bayt last weekend.

Mayor Bayt asked the Park Board to take steps to begin construction of the adequately equipped recreation facility in the area bounded by 16th, 15th, Missouri and Northwestern, just west of Flanner House and the Moravian Health Center.

The project, under consideration for 10 years, would be financed jointly by the city and the Board of Fundamental Education, a non-profit corporation, chartered by special act of Congress to encourage and train persons of limited educational opportunities to develop their native skills and aptitudes to fit more effectively into our industrial society.

FACILITIES at the center would include a gymnasium, indoor and outdoor swimming pools, bath-

More Alert Observers Deplore Lack Of Interest In Civic Advancement

By WM. A. CHAMBERS

"Something new" has been added to chances or opportunities for Negro people of our community, state and country, in every sphere of worthwhile human interest and activity—and almost in the course of recent changes of the moon.

Therefore, by far and large, Negro people face a compelling challenge on the spirit of purposeful living, the feeling or understanding of human dignity and confidence in their own kind.

These general observations were made by a veteran worker in the highly important field of iron and steel processing. He is a confirmed champion of the "new look" on the organized labor front.

He was born in the "deep South." He contends that there is little, or no Negro problem only as Negro people are failing themselves. Discussing the spirit of purposeful living he charged that Negro people over the country continuously deny themselves the effectiveness of unity in constructive activities.

Further, he proposed that "something new" includes increasing prospects of enjoying more of the better things of life, in conjunction with fitting or proper responses to new job chances in many phases of business, industry and services.

Herein, he asserted that the chain is no stronger than the weakest link. Therefore, the spirit of purposeful living in terms of the strong must embrace promotion of the cause of the weak.

OTHERWISE, discussing articles appearing recently in The Recorder he observed that civic unity or action in our community is necessary to meet significant challenges on all fronts. Again political action by any other name is an essential phase of any constructive program.

Concerning the situation where in the political potential of Negro residents of our community has been neglected or ignored, he conceives of a sustained program to inspire working people with the spirit of unity in all matters where they have common stakes or interests.

The series of articles exploring the general issue are now appearing in The Recorder. These articles include answers or comments on queries submitted to residents of our community, people in all walks of life.

Questions in the current article are as follows:

Do You Agree (or not) that Negro people face a new challenge on reflections of human dignity (self-respect) eventually involving the spirit of purposeful living, and proven confidence in their own kind?

Do You Agree (or not) that Negro homelands of our community,

Bombs Damage Homes, Churches In Terror Wave

The possibility that Federal troops might have to be sent to preserve peace in Alabama arose Thursday as a wave of horror swept the nation in the wake of the dynamiting of four Negro churches and the homes of two ministers in Montgomery.

Typical of the immediate reaction of shocked citizens was a telegram dispatched by Dr. Arthur L. Jelks, pastor of Alexander Chapel AME Church at Evansville, to Gov. James E. Folsom of Alabama.

"Three years ago I requested that 'unless you use your office for God as governor of my birth state, Federal troops might be forced to march into Alabama to uphold and enforce the law of the land.'" Rev. Jelks reminded Gov. Folsom.

"Lives are in danger. Properties are being damaged. Law and order are divorced children of peace."

"The world's eye is upon America's unrest as it is upon Hungary. Help America to meet the task abroad with precepts and examples of democracy at home."

ATTY. HENRY J. RICHARDSON, JR., NAACP national legal representative in Indiana, said that "an undeclared state of civil war" is in existence between lawless elements of Dixie vs. the U.S. Supreme Court and Negro citizens.

Atty. Richardson charged that local authorities who condone the outrages in Montgomery are in direct contempt of the Federal judge who ordered bus integration there.

In Washington, a Justice Department spokesman said the FBI has been directed to make an investigation into the bombings, to determine whether there was a violation of Federal law.

At NAACP national headquarters in New York, a spokesman told The Recorder by long-distance telephone that the organization was consulting carefully with Thurgood Marshall and other attorneys in preparation to take a stand. The NAACP is outlawed in Alabama.

The dynamite blasts brought the Dixie reign of terror to its greatest peak since Ku Klux Klan days. The anti-Negro terrorism was being fanned to white heat by statements of Southern governors, and underground activities of the White Citizens Councils and such agitators as John Kasper, who on a television program Sunday advocated "throwing dynamite sticks in among them Negroes and supporters of the Supreme Court and letting them handle it the

"Bread Cast Upon the Waters"

An Indianapolis white woman who went to Japan to perform a good deed for a Japanese family is featured in an article in the January issue of Reader's Digest.

Entitled "America Seems Near to me No." the First Person Award story by Miss Mutsumi Kurohashi tells how an "American Christian Lady" brought to the Japanese family a diary written by Miss Kurohashi's father who was killed in World War II.

The diary was taken from the father's body in New Guinea in 1943 by an "American Soldier," who brought it to Indianapolis. Recently it was shown to a "Japanese family in Japan, and the story came to the attention of the Japanese Student" here. He wrote to the editor in "The American Lady's" visit to the remote Japanese village.

Identified in the article only as Miss Wright, "The American Lady" is Miss Rose H. Wright, proprietor of the Wright Studio, 533' Oliver.

"I would do for a Negro family what I did for this Japanese family," Miss Wright told The Recorder.

Walker Co. Announces 1957 Promotion Plans

An expanded advertising and sales promotion campaign for 1957 has been launched by the Walker Manufacturing company with S. Henry Bundles as the director, according to Willard B. Ransom, general manager.

Mr. Bundles, who has been serving as special sales representative for the world-famous cosmetics firm, has a wide range of experience in the beauty industry.

He has worked as a salesman to the wholesale drug trade, beauty and barber supply jobbers, retail stores and beauty shops. During the past year, he has been actively engaged in sales promotions which have carried him to all sections of the country.

Consequently, the new sales director is thoroughly familiar with most of the major market areas and their particular characteristics.

During the next several months, Mr. Bundles will work in conjunction with Mr. Ransom and the company's advertising agency carrying out plans to triple all previous sales and promotion activities, which include the hiring of additional sales personnel.

MR. BUNDLES is a graduate of Indiana University, veteran of World War II and the Korean War, a member of the Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity and several sales organizations.

He is married to the former Miss A. Lelia Perry, great-granddaughter of the late Madam C. J. Walker, founder of the Walker company. Mr. Bundles is vice-president of the company and heads the public relations department.

The Bundles have two children.

Surrounding the building would be athletic fields and playgrounds. Mayor Bayt said the city would retain policy control and share in the operation jointly with the Education Board.

The city's share of construction costs would include $250,000 for the grounds and construction of the outdoor swimming pool.

The Education Board, of which Cleo Blackburn is a director, has already allocated $500,000 for other construction costs.

by neglecting or ignoring the effectiveness of civic unity or action, are denying themselves better promises of the future or present."

"Chester Ridley, long active in civic and political affairs of the near northeast area of the city states:

"All nations increasingly are becoming aware of the Negro's contribution to every phase of our way of life. Records show his accomplishments, both past and present.

"We have many examples of eminent personages whose lives reflect the full manner of dignity, self-respect and purposeful living. Thousands are unheralded, but among others of wide acclaim are George W. Carver, Ralph Bunche, Jackie Robinson, Joe Louis, Mary McLeod Bethune, Nat 'King' Cole and Eartha Kitt.

"Today Negro people are entering and succeeding in all fields of wholesome endeavor—science, medicine, business, art, music, sports, entertainment and politics. Some are on the lower rounds of the ladder climbing slowly, but carefully to the highest. While those at the top, who have achieved goals of purposeful living are reaching down to encourage and aid those below. Thus giving their people the benefit of their achievements.

"I most certainly agree that a great many Negro homemakers are neglecting or ignoring the effectiveness of civic action and thereby defeating better promises of the present or future of our community.

"Many homeowners and householders have allowed their property or dwellings to deteriorate. They have reflected little civic spirit or pride in not keeping up with the trend of the times, in care of their homes and their surroundings, yards, fences, etc., gutters, sidewalks, streets and utility accommodations. All these things set bad examples for the less promising citizens.

"MANY TIMES or places the so-called better class are fleeing from the modest communities or areas where they are very much needed. They need to awaken a civic pride in their neighbors to instill cultural atmosphere, a desire for beautiful homes, inspiring churches, schools, recreational centers, municipal improvements, etc.

"But they move away, and sustaining the same unlikely spirit, they are soon surrounded with the same untenable conditions or people. Consequently, the better part of virtue is to work hand in hand with each neighbor for the betterment of the community in which we live and to make it a place to be pointed out with pride."

LEON E. BATES, international representative of the UAW-CIO and highly regarded by his neighbors and friends in the community stated:

"America is going through a revolutionary period which reflects a challenge to the Negro in obtaining full citizenship. In meeting these changes, over a span of years, we will become a dignified race with confidence in the American way of life."

"Negroes, as a whole, are not very civic minded. This is not due to neglect, or ignoring their responsibilities, rather, it is an educational job and steps should be taken to make them civic minded."

Mrs. E. Henderson Church, Civic Worker, Dies

Mrs. Ella W. Henderson, 82, died Jan. 7 at a local hospital after an illness of nine years. A native of Lexington, Ky., she had lived here about 63 years, residing at 2035 Boulevard place.

For many years active in the city's church, social and political life, she had been before her illness a devoted member of Bethel AME Church, singing in its choir and serving in its Daughters of Allen club. She had also been a member of the Woman's Council and the Old Settlers Social and Civic club.

As an active political figure, she had been a personal friend of many of the city's mayors and leading politicians.

Funeral services were to be held at 2 Friday afternoon in Bethel Church, followed by burial in Floral Park cemetery, with the Patton Funeral Home in charge.

Surviving are the husband, William F. Henderson; two children, Miss Marian Henderson and Livy R. Henderson; four grandchildren, Mrs. Roberta L. Slatter and Clifford W. and Richard C. Henderson of this city, and Mrs. Mary E. Hudson, Petersburg, Va., and 10 great-grandchildren.

of their community problems." WYATT L. BRANSFORD, business representative of a Cement Masons Union (Local) stated: "I heartily agree that Negro people face a new challenge on reflection of human dignity, in that the scope is much wider than it was in former years for the Negro to exercise his self-respect. This means the field is larger for him to put into operation his talents whether obtained from God or developed by education and experience. We should be mindful of the fact that the Negro of today is a new Negro. He is neither a weakling, nor a coward and he is not a quitter nor unprepared; but a worthy citizen capable of coping with any situation in which he finds himself.

"I think, in the last instance, that every Negro homemaker should take a definite part in as many civic projects as is humanly possible."

Held For Forgery

U. S. Secret Service agents believe they broke a stolen check ring with the arrest of Donald Francis Cooke, 630 Blake, Apt. 236, Wednesday.

Cooke, scheduled to appear before Commissioner Ladrence E. Turner, Jr., was charged with forgery of a $41.60 government check. Officials said they suspect Cooke of being a member of the ring that has looted mail boxes of Lockefield Garden apartments of more than $300 in the past three weeks.

Voice of the Eastside

By MARY P. McGUIRE

"Honor thy father and thy mother, that thy days may be long upon the earth which the Lord thy God giveth thee." Sunday afternoon was a time set by the hubby and me to give honor to parents, although ours had passed. Our special honored guest was Mrs. Mary Horton of Mississippi, the mother of Mrs. Annie Mae Horton, 2718 Columbia avenue. The Hortons gave a lovely birthday party honoring Mother Horton on her 85th birthday.

Among other guests invited to our home were Mrs. Annie Walton, widow of the late Rev. Charles Walton, former pastor of Mt. Carmel Baptist Church; H. G. Witt, a former H. P. Wasson & Company employee for 42 years, and Nathan Watson, for 50 years a contractor and one of the oldest deacons at New Bethel Baptist Church.

Due to the weather, 98-year-old Rev. Horace Betty, chaplain of the City Usher Board Union, of which your Scribe was the first woman president, and Mrs. Clifford Williams were unable to be present.

We do appreciate Mr. and Mrs. W. Williams, daughter and son-in-law of Mr. Witt, and Mr. and Mrs. James Horton, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Horton, who assisted these "young" people in getting out in spite of the heavy snow all day on the first Sunday of the year.

Besides those mentioned above, we were so pleased to have Roosevelt Dockery, 1312 North Missouri street, a co-worker during my time at the Jacobs Brothers Funeral Home, among the younger guests.

Speaking of Mt. Carmel Baptist Church, I note that on January 13 at 3 the Ingathering club will hold its annual celebration with Mrs. Nannie Mae Johnson, principal of School No. 37, as principal speaker. She will talk on "What God Expects of Us as Christians." Mrs. Ella Wells is president.

This information was picked up from Mother Charles Walton, former pastor's wife.

While mentioning churches, we cannot forget Southern Baptist Church, which started in a storefront and now has secured a building at 28th street and Schofield avenue. Many compliments have been given Rev. W. E. Pittman for the swell job done in a few months.

As an Eastsider, I have noted the many accomplishments made by this great church. Last Sunday, under the leadership of the pastor, the missionary society had Rev. J. M. Brown, assistant pastor, to deliver the missionary sermon. Members and friends supported the service nicely.

Well, again I crack my own whip. Bob Johnson, a staunch Legionnaire and head custodian at Roberts Park Methodist Church, with several employees under his supervision at various times, took time out to entertain the hubby, Howard Connell, with a grand evening last week.

Their first stop was the Embassy, Fairfield and College avenues, where Bill Shick, the chef, prepared a lovely fried chicken dinner, while they were waiting for the opening of the big meeting at 42nd street and College avenue. Reports are that the Gailard Post ranked second to none in keeping up their obligations.

Just paying my entry fees last year, I am very proud of the Gailard Post. We are praying that all posts of our group will "get up and git" or quit. Too often when the men bring back the reports, it's sad. Many of our organizations should consolidate and be one big group, rather than not be able to COMMUNITY BIBLE CLASS ELECTS: Officers of the Community Bible Class were elected at the group's annual New Year's Day dinner, held at the home of Mrs. Alberta Ellis, 540 Agnes street. Among those elected were, seated, Mesdames Clydie Simms, teacher; Josephine Scott, assistant teacher; Monetta Lighten, president; Gora Jessup, assistant secretary; Mary Stepp, second vice-president; Mrs. Ellis and Samuel Scott, refreshments chairman. Standing are Charles Lighten, chairman, and Willie Marmon, treasurer. Not shown are Mesdames Dora Spurlock, first vice-president; Lois Young, secretary; Emma McCombs, recording secretary; John H. Sims, chaplain; Mr. and Mrs. Claude Young and Mrs. Amanda Ratcliff. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lester Craig and Richard C. Henderson.

While mentioning illness, Mrs. Geneva Witt Williams informs me that Mrs. Mary Venable, widow of the late Rev. David C. Venable, met with an accident in the William H. Block Company store on December 31. She is doing fine at home, 2372 Highland place.

Rev. Venable and I were school chums at School No. 24 and Shortridge high school.

Also mentioned on the sick list is William Moran, 500 Udell street. He is an old member of Emmanuel Baptist Church. His son-in-law, Rev. John Fleming, continues in grave condition at General hospital.

Mrs. Mattie G. Anderson, former dean of a school at Nashville and a member of New Bethel Baptist Church, is doing nicely at General hospital.

The Eastside Better Business and Civic League held its installation services at Zion Hope Baptist Church, of which Rev. Roosevelt Mumford is pastor. Officers were installed by James Horton, executive chairman.

Your Scribe continues president, and other officers installed were Mesdames Beatrice Holifield, first vice-president; Haidee Wilson, second vice-president; Viola Mills, financial secretary, and Anna Mae Horton, treasurer.

Not present were Mrs. Cora Wilson, recording secretary; Mrs. Lillian Wallace, corresponding secretary, and Daniel Lee, chaplain. Howard Connell served as acting chaplain.

The new program calls for all dues for the year to be paid by March, and the flower fund dues paid by June.

Chandler Houston was appointed chairman of civic issues, Nathan Watson membership chairman, and Mrs. Haidee Wilson, floral fund treasurer, with Mrs. Beatrice Holifield as her secretary.

Next meeting will be held Monday, February 4, with Mrs. Holifield, 2704 Sangster avenue.

Mrs. Hardiman Serves Dinner

Mrs. Nathan Hardiman entertained Sunday with a lovely dinner at her home, 2340 Martindale avenue. The table was beautifully decorated with a centerpiece of cut flowers.

Out-of-town guests were Clarence Hayden Williams, past president of the National Association of Negro Musicians and a public school music teacher in St. Louis, and Orrin Clayton Southern, professor of music at Lincoln University, Pennsylvania.

Also guests were Mrs. Edna Polin and daughter, Mrs. Elnora Henderson, and her two daughters, and Mrs. Polin's son, Dr. Roscoe R. Polin, president of the NANM.

ROBERT THOMPSONS ENTERTAIN RELATIVES

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson, 1539 Renon street, entertained his sister, Mrs. Ann Maye, and children of Chicago with a lovely Christmas dinner recently. Members of Mrs. Thompson's family were also guests.

The Thompsons motored back to Chicago with Mrs. Maye after the holiday season.

Miriam Lawson Is Bride of Frederick Cravens In Beautiful Christmas Eve Church Ceremony

Miss Miriam Ellen Lawson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Lawson, 4102 Cornelius avenue, became the bride of Frederick A. Cravens, son of Mark Cravens, Sr., 1029 Burdsal parkway, and Mrs. Gladys Cravens Hardy, 2445 Rader street, in a beautiful ceremony on Christmas Eve at 6:30 in Second Christ Church, with Rev. R. H. Peoples officiating at the double-ring rites.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore white. Hand-clipped Chantilly lace panels formed a chapel sweep train, while the bodice of lace over bridal pink satin featured a sweetheart neckline embroidered with sequins and pearls and a large satin bow in back.

The veil was attached to a cap of lace over satin, trimmed with pearls. She carried a white orchid on her Prayer Book.

Mrs. Norma Cummings, sister of the groom, was matron-of-honor. Serving as bridesmaids were Mesdames Joan Godfrey, Virginia Ross and Betty Suggs and the Misses Harriett Blackburn, Christian Chavis and Norma Davis, while the Misses Avril Lawson, sister of the bride, and Martha Wood were junior bridesmaids.

Their princess-style, ballerina-length dresses were done in mist, leaf, emerald and kelly green. Chiffon looped around the scooped neckline continued to the hemlines. Shoes matched the dresses, and the headresses were fur bands. They carried white satin muffs on which were red poinsettias.

The dress worn by the matron-of-honor was fashioned similarly in coral with white chiffon. Her bouquet of white carnations was pointed up with holly shaped in a crescent.

Mark Cravens, Jr., was his brother's best man, while serving as ushers were another brother, William Cravens; Rev. James L. Cummings and Messrs. Charles James, Virgil Freeman, Walter Blackburn, Donald Suggs and Ernest McGruder.

Little Miss Shelly Lloyd and Frank Lloyd, children of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Lloyd, were flowergirl and ringbearer.

The reception followed in the church downstairs social room.

The couple will live at Harlingen, Texas, where the groom is stationed as a lieutenant in the Air Force.

Mrs. Cravens attended Indiana State Teachers College and is employed at Flanner House Homes, Inc. Lieut. Cravens graduated from DePauw University last June.

CHRISTMAS EVE BRIDE: Mrs. Frederick A. Cravens was Miss Miriam Ellen Lawson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Lawson, 4102 Cornelius avenue, before her marriage on Christmas Eve in Second Christ Church. Her husband is the son of Mark Cravens, Sr., 1029 Burdsal parkway, and Mrs. Gladys Cravens Hardy, 2445 Rader street.

Shiloh Baptist Church Moves On Under New Pastor

The Shiloh Baptist Church has shown remarkable progress under the leadership of Rev. C. V. Jeter. In the five (5) months of his pastorage there has been an increase of 62 new members. There has been organized in the church a Youth Council, Brotherhood chorus, a Woman's Auxiliary, a Boy Scout Troop and a Home Nursing Class is in training for field service at this time. The Youth Council meets on Wednesday night at 7 p.m. and is open to all in the age of 13-26 class. The Boy Scout Troop meets every Friday evening at 6:30 and is open to all boys age 8-16. Last Sunday the Rev. F. F. Young, of First Baptist Church North Indianapolis delivered a very inspiring installation message after which he installed all the officers of the church and its auxiliaries. Music was furnished by the singing units of First Baptist. Next Sunday night, the Shiloh Sextet, the Senior Choir and Brotherhood chorus will render a joint musical at 8 p.m. The public is invited to come and enjoy this musical treat. Rev. C. V. Jeter, minister; Marguerite Lytle, Reporter.

THE ANNUAL INDOOR camp meeting held each winter will open Sunday, Jan. 13 and continue through Jan. 28 at Cadle Tabernacle each day at 2:30 and 7:30 p. m. and at 10:30 a. m. More than 200 churches of the various denominations are cooperating in this effort.

THE USHER BOARD of Friendship Baptist will present a musical program Sunday at 3:30 p. m. with talent of other churches appearing on the program.

REV. J. H. CHEFFINS, pastor of Community Baptist will speak at First Samuel Baptist, Friday, Jan. 11 at 8 p. m. The Pastor's Aid of the church will present a program Sunday at 2:30 p. m. with Rev. J. J. Davis, pastor of Rock of Ages Baptist as speaker. His choir will sing.

COMMUNION SERVICE will be held at New Baptist Sunday at 11 a. m.

YOUTH GROUPS planning to celebrate Youth Week are invited to send me the outline of their Youth Week programs that it might be included in Youth Week publicity. I will gladly furnish names of youths willing to appear as speakers and who are regional institutions. There are a young German minister and another from the Philippines who would be happy to be guest speaker. There are others from India, Africa and the Holy Land.

CHURCH MEMBERS attending services New Year's Eve to watch the new year arrive, greeted the occasion everywhere with thanks and praise to God for the precious opportunity He has given each to enjoy another year. Many looked back over 1956 and rededicated their lives to better service this year than last, and will go out to win more souls to Christ and endeavor to help those in need.

THOMAS J. GRIFFIN, formerly of Oklahoma City, Okla., has been named director of Christian Action and Community service for the Disciples of Christ.

Foe FEPC Law

be done," Reich did not feel it was the responsibility of big business to do it, even though it is the privilege of the powerful state Chamber of Commerce to use its influence in fighting an FEPC law with teeth.

An easy man to talk with, the executive vice-president relaxed in his spacious, handsome office as he outlined his own interest in the FEPC in Indiana.

It started, it seems, when Reich learned that H. B. 445 passed the state House of Representatives with a vote of 91-0 in February, 1941, during the war. Curious about an FEPC bill which would pass without one vote against, he obtained a copy of the original.

He was quickly moved to action, he said, by its compulsory feature imposing penalties upon employers who refused to hire applicants "solely by reason of the race, color or creed on any applicant for employment."

The state chamber "immediately contacted its membership with an explanation of the bill and made public a statement of its position" through a news release, according to its own publication "The Story of House Bill No. 445... A Bill That Failed To Pass."

"Against the advice of certain political leaders, the State Chamber of Commerce," the publication says, "along with other organizations interested in protecting the rights of employers, continued to impress upon the public the contents of this bill."

Their work was not in vain. The Senate, while not wishing apparently to go on record as actually opposing the compulsory FEPC, sent the measure to the Committee on Military Affairs, with only three dissenting votes, including those of present Senator Robert L. Brokeburrr and U. S. Senator William E. Jenner.

THE STATE CHAMBER shortly afterwards recommended bi-racial committees composed of three employers and three Negroes to be established in each city in the state "where Negro unemployment presents a problem." This developed into the "Indiana Plan of Bi-Racial Cooperation."

According to Reich, the businessmen initiated the plan and made several attempts to get it working but were bogged down by the "difference of Negroes themselves." Saying it seems to him that "certain groups do not want voluntary programs to work and are more interested in dictatorial programs, Reich appeared to be working up, over the passive resistance of many of the state's "Negro leaders."

While never budging from his opposition to compulsory FEPC, he did admit that "certain employers" could not be immediately touched by an educational program such as the state chamber advocates. He felt, however, that proper tactics would, in the end, "bring them around."

In common with proponents of compulsory FEPC as well as compulsory desegregation in all phases of American living, Reich believes that contact between the races at work will go a long way toward full-fledged integration. He just doesn't believe that initial contact should be compulsory, even though others may feel the contact will never be made if it isn't compulsory.

Save Lockefield

ture a highly profitable one by raising the rents to levels now prevailing in Negro districts of the city.

THE BIG QUESTION raised by the Lockefield committee is "where would the displaced families, admittedly unable to pay prevailing rates, find adequate housing in view of the serious short supply of rental housing for Negroes of the city?"

Mayor Bayt said he was awaiting reports by the Health and Welfare Council and a subcommittee of his Advisory committee before announcing a definite decision.

Although opposed to public housing in principle, the mayor said he is considering the proposal in the light of claims by Negro leaders that the housing situation of Negro residents would endanger many grave evils if the city failed to take over Lockefield at this time.

They point out that the situation is aggravated by the fact that about 500 Negro families living in an Eastside area marked for slum clearance would also be thrown in competition for what little housing is available to Negroes.

BEST XMAS GIFT OF ALL: "I am very thankful, my other Bible is so worn I can't hardly read it which I do regularly each day. I'm so happy you could do this for me." This gratitude was expressed by Mrs. Susie Robinson, 519 Agnes as a New Bible purchased for her by The Recorder Christmas Cheer Fund was presented her by George J. Thompson, the Recorder's business manager.

Canadians Beat Bombs Damage Segregation

The Southern portion of the United States is not the only place where racial segregation is being fought — and, successfully. The 300 Negro citizens of Dresden, Ontario, Canada recently won a bitter two-year fight for equality.

The Negroes in Dresden are descendants of runaway American slaves. For more than 100 years they have had freedom in Canada, but not equality.

The full-scale fight for equality did not end when in 1954 Ontario passed its Fair Accommodation Practices Act which removed legal bars to the use of public restaurants, barber shops, poolrooms, etc. Segregation had too long enjoyed the sanction of tradition. It had become a way of life for the people of Dresden.

LEADER of the segregationists for the past years had been Morley McKay, cafe owner. McKay was twice convicted of practicing race discrimination. He appealed both convictions, the first successfully.

In December he announced he would drop the second appeal. However, he did not say if that meant he would serve Negroes. The climax came when two Negroes went into the cafe to find out. They were served — with a smile.

Negro leader, Joe Henson, described as a "placid peace-loving farmer," remarked: "Now we've made our point. We may not want to go into those places, but we know we can go."

Dr. Lane's Brother Appointed Judge

Attorney E. Everett Lane was recently appointed associate judge of the People's Court of Baltimore, Md., making him the first Negro to sit on a court of record in that state.

Attorney Lane, brother of Dr. Russel A. Lane, principle of Crispus Attucks high school, Indianapolis, succeeds Judge James L. Hennegan who died recently. The term Lane fills expires next year at which time he must be elected if he is to continue in office.

Lane was appointed by Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin on the recommendations of the Bar Association of Baltimore and its Negro counterpart, the Monumental Bar Association. He is believed to be the first Negro ever recommended for any position by all-white group.

The 65-year-old graduate of Morgan State College received his law degree from Howard University in 1922.

He had previously served as a Police Court judge and magistrate in the traffic court—the first Negro ever to hold the latter position in any Southern state.

best way they can."

THE SIX pre-dawn dynamite blasts at Montgomery heavily damaged four churches and the homes of a Negro minister and a white minister.

The First Baptist Church, pastored by Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy who spoke at Phillips Temple CME Church in Indianapolis last week, was left a shambles. Its huge stained glass windows were smashed.

Rev. Abernathy's home was dynamited while his wife and baby were sleeping there. Mt. Olive Baptist Church and Bell Street Baptist Church, both Negro churches, were also bombed. The front end of the Mount Olive Church was blown in. The Bell Street church was wrecked, with its back wall blasted out, its altar splintered and its rear ceiling sagging as though about to collapse.

Rev. Robert Graetz, white Lutheran minister who has aided the bus boycott, was a victim of the terror blasts. Both his church and home were bombed.

Rev. Graetz, his wife and four children, one a week-old baby, were unharmed. The home was previously bombed last August.

REP. ADAM CLAYTON POWELL and other Congressmen could not be reached as Congress was in special session to hear President Eisenhower's message.

Rev. Abernathy and Rev. Martin Luther King, the leaders of the boycott movement, rushed back to Montgomery from Atlanta, Ga., where they had been attending a conference.

Police said the dynamite was a type farmers obtain from the U. S. Department of Agriculture for about 15 or 20 cents a stick for blowing up stumps.

Prior to the six shotgun blasts had been fired at city buses since they were integrated by court order. One of the blasts seriously wounded a pregnant Negro mother in the leg.

Negroes Defy

Ala., and Tallahassee, Fla. Rising aloft on the bastions of "love, law and liberation," the movement is designed to eliminate odious and stultifying segregation through a campaign of "non-violence."

A guidance program published by the Atlanta Daily World, Negro daily newspaper, urged supporters to "complete non-violence in word and action, and the use of moral and spiritual forces to defend any Negroes molested for riding unsegregated buses."

The freedom movement now concentrating on elimination of segregated busses has significant developments in other cities this week.

A NEGRO MINISTERIAL GROUP in New Orleans said it would present a resolution to the city's public Service Commission asking that busses be integrated and declaring that, "we don't want boycotts or any suggestion of violence."

Tennessee's Governor Frank Clement, asserting he favored a "moderate" approach to the segregation problem, asked the Legislature for new laws to prevent integration of public schools.

Making his first public statement on the issue, he said: "I for one will not be a party to any action which would imperil or endanger the continued existence of our public schools."

A YMCA COOPERATION Committee was recently organized at Galilee Baptist by the pastor, Rev. D. B. Dudley. Members appointed to serve on the committee were Rev. John Baker, Mr. Morris, Philip Glover and William Lee.

African Missionaries Visit In City, Honored by Friends

Bishop and Mrs. E. R. Hopkins, missionaries from Liberia, West Africa, are house guests of Mrs. Martha E. Jones, secretary of foreign missions of the Pentecostal Assemblies of the World, Inc., 1158 West 27th street. While here they are speaking at many of the PAW churches.

Mrs. Hopkins, the former Miss Ellen M. Moore, is a registered nurse, having received her Bachelor of Science degree in nursing education from the Medical College of Richmond, Va. A graduate of the Lincoln School of Nurses of New York, she attended the Margaret Hague Maternity School for Nurses in Jersey City, N. J., taking her midwifery at the Maternity Center Association in New York City and pediatrics at the Cook County School for Nurses, Chicago.

She was married June 5, 1954, to Elder E. R. Hopkins, who at the general assembly of the PAW in 1956 was elevated to the bishopric of Africa.

On Thursday of last week Mrs. Hopkins was entertained by the Christ Temple Dorcas Workers, on Saturday by Mrs. Edward Corlew, 530 West 38th street, and on Tuesday of this week at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ellis, 1524 West 25th street.

On Wednesday she was dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Ballard, 2250 North Oxford street; on Thursday, dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stroud, 2508 Hillside avenue.

She is to be guest of the Indianapolis Graduate Nurses Association next Sunday.

Mrs. Hopkins is founder and director of the Samuel Grimes Child Welfare and Maternal Hospital in Kakata, Liberia.

PTA Notes

The PTA of School No. 87 will meet next Wednesday afternoon at 3:15. Dr. Lehman Adams, prominent dentist, will talk on "Care of the Teeth," and a film will be shown.

Mrs. Vivian Marbury is school principal.

Personals and you

Little Guy Hayes, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hayes, who has been confined to a local hospital during the holidays, is much improved at his home, 243 West 21st street.

Rev. H. S. Davis, pastor of Mt. Pleasant Baptist Church, 1702 East 10th street, has just returned from a trip to his church in Mexico, a Christmas vacation with his sister, Mrs. Mary Bonner, Waco, Texas.

Mrs. Susie B. Thompson, 3024 North Illinois, an active church worker who has been quite ill for the past month, is reported improving nicely.

Joseph Ware is now stationed in Europe. He is the husband of Mrs. Muriel Ware, substitute teacher in the public school system.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Glenn Stewart, Cleveland, spent the holidays with their mothers, Messrs. James Celia M. Simon and Martha Galloway. They missed seeing a great many friends because of their short visit.

Miss Jamesetta Hodge returned to her home in New York City last Friday after spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Hodge, 2714 Indianapolis avenue.

METROPOLITAN GROUPS SET "EVENING IN SONG"

The Metropolitan Baptist Church senior choir and ladies' chorus will present "An Evening in Sacred Songs" at 7:30 Sunday night at the church. The public is invited.

Choir Leader Fetes Members

Mrs. Eliza Saddler, 1104 North Missouri street, president of the senior choir of Metropolitan Baptist Church, entertained its members with a New Year's dinner party at her home on Wednesday night of last week. The house was elaborately decorated with gentry and seasonal colors.

Mrs. Saddler's sisters, Mesdames Lois Hinkle and Susie Moore, served as hostesses. Literary games and music were enjoyed.

Attending were Mesdames Nora Payne, Viola Gans, Mary Miller, Margaret Gaines, Maggie Payne, Mary High, Louise Brooks, Callie B. Taylor, Clara Griffin, Ada Williams, Daisy Whitlock, McClellan Burton, Marie Durham and Blanche West and Messrs. George Richardson and Hansel Cupton.

C. H. Smith is director of the choir, and Mrs. Willa Johnson is reporter, while Dev. William F. Sweatt is pastor.

MUSIC PROMOTERS PLAN ANNUAL SCHOLARSHIP TEA

The Indianapolis Music Promoters club, local branch of the National Association of Negro Musicians, will sponsor its annual "Scholarship Tea" Sunday afternoon, February 3, from 4 to 7 at the Phyllis Wheatley YWCA.

A special program, featuring a talented soprano from South Bend, will begin at 5.

Patrons are being solicited for the affair.

AY FREE SYMPHONY CONCERT JAN. 13

VICTOR DISTEFANO

Victor DiStefano, above, will be featured in "Percussion Concerto" when Izler Solomon and the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra present the season's final free Municipal Concert in the Murat Theatre, Indianapolis, Sunday, Jan. 13, at 3 p. m.

In the unusual selection, Mr. DiStefano will perform on 17 instruments of the percussion section including 4 timpani, 3 drums, tam tam, cymbal (suspended), 2 hand cymbals, ratchet, wood block, metal block, castanets, bass drum and tambourine.

Orchestral selections will be Nicolai's Overture "Merry Wives of Windsor," Gluck-Mottl's Ballet Suite No. 1, and Beethoven's popular Fifth Symphony.

The concert is being termed "Salute to Lisbon, Portugal" following an exchange of letters between Mayor Phillip L. Bayt and Alvaro Salvaca Barreto, Mayor of Lisbon. In attendance will be Ambassador L. Esteves Fernandes, and the entire program will be recorded and flown by diplomatic pouch to Lisbon for performance over radio stations of "Emissora Nacional."

Services for Russell L. Carson, 57, 561 E. Forrest street, Detroit, Mich., were held Nov. 30 at the Willis Mortuary with burial in Floral Park. Elder John Higginson officiated.

Mr. Carson died Nov. 24 in the Wayne County General hospital of Detroit.

Born in Ludlow, Ky., he lived in Indianapolis several years in his early life before moving to Detroit where he lived for the past 40 years.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carson, residents of Indianapolis for many years; two brothers, William McKinley Carson, also of Indianapolis and Edward Carson, San Gabriel, Cal.; a daughter, Mrs. Hazel Smith of Detroit, two grandchildren, four nieces and two nephews.

Head Injury Fatal

Herman Franklin Johnson, 45, found unconscious in the 400 Block W. St. Clair last Saturday, with a head injury, died in General hospital Monday.

Johnson, 827 N. Capitol, was arrested by police who found him and taken to the city lockup on a drunk charge.

Police officials had him transferred to the hospital for treatment of the wound in his head after he continued to remain in a semi-conscious state.

George Neal, a neighbor at 829 N. Capitol, told police Johnson was seen several days previously hanging precariously outside his window and had to be dragged to safety by other roomers in the building.

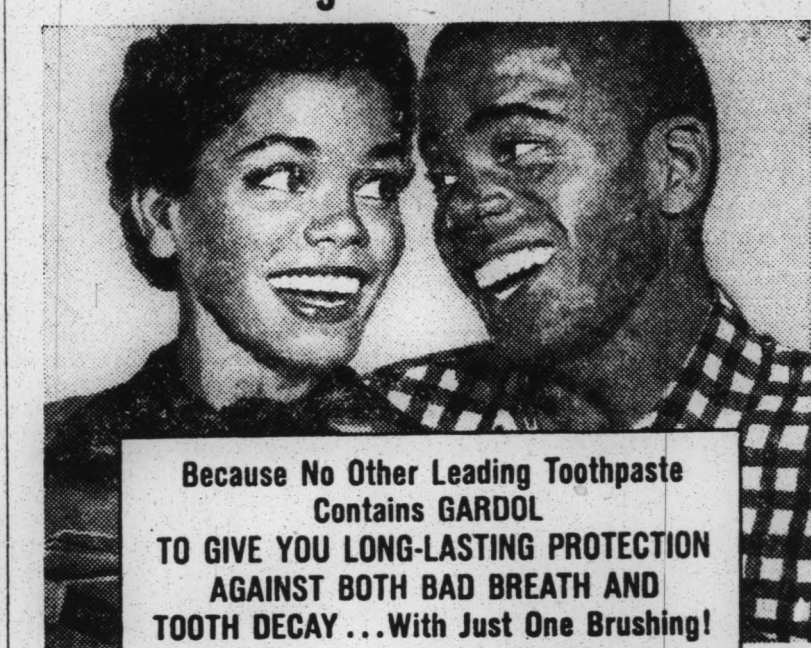

His body was taken to Lexington, Ky., his native home, for services and burial.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Science Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drugstores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Down HOPKINSVILLE Way

By MILDRED L. IRVIN

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky.—Mission Circles Nos. 1 and 3 of Main Street Baptist Church held a Christmas party Wednesday night of last week in the church annex. Games were played and contests enjoyed, with many prizes being awarded. Delicious refreshments were served. Mrs. Annie Taylor is president of Circle No. 1, and Mrs. M. W. Crump is president of Circle No. 3. Rev. J. R. Hunt is church pastor.

The City-Wide Mission entertained members and friends at the home of the president, Mrs. Hattie Foster, Wednesday night of last week. Mr. and Mrs. Walden, Cincinnati, were guests. Mrs. Walden showed pictures of the Holy Land, after which refreshments were served and gifts exchanged.

The senior class of Attucks high school entertained a large number of guests with a party at Brooks Palladium Wednesday night of last week. The group enjoyed dancing from 9 to 1, with music furnished by a combo from Nashville. Mrs. W. Stewart and William Snorton are class sponsors.

Ted Thompson, representative of the Watch Tower, New York City, delivered a public address at the Jehovah's Witnesses' Kingdom Hall last Sunday afternoon talking on "The Bible's Answer to Modern-Day Living." J. Sherman Brewer is minister for the local congregation.

PVT. JOHN W. JOHNSON has returned to Fort Bliss, Tex., after visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wesley Johnson.

Mrs. Bobbie T. Waddell was hostess to the annual Evans Family breakfast at her home on Christmas Day. Covers were laid for 14. After breakfast the group gathered around the beautifully decorated Christmas tree, sang carols and exchanged gifts.

They were surprised by a long-distance call from Mrs. Alma Campbell and daughters, Indianapolis, who were unable to attend the affair.

Among out-of-town guests attending the wedding reception of Mr. and Mrs. James Marvin Clark were Mr. and Mrs. Randle Clark and Mrs. Frankie Frazier Buckner, Chicago; Mrs. Clara Frazier, Altonville; Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Nebel, Huntington; Mrs. Joseph Stevens, Murfreesboro, Tenn.; Tyler Glenn, Terre Haute, Ind., and Mrs. S. E. Grinstead, Nashville.

Blasts Negro Doctors Dodging Rights Fight

CHICAGO (ANP)—Dr. James W. Eichelberger, secretary of Christian Education for the AME Zion Church, has issued a blast at Negro doctors, educators and "other professionals" who derive their earnings and support from Negroes but dodge leadership in communities affected by the desegregation crisis.

"It is lamentable that at such a time as this many of our professionals and others with large financial incomes and holdings have been conspicuously silent and inactive in behalf of their people," Dr. Eichelberger said in an interview with the Associated Negro Press.

THE CHURCH LEADER, himself an outspoken foe of segregation, said most Negro professionals other than lawyers are "letting ministers and church people bear the brunt and assume leadership in integration matters."

He cited Rev. Martin Luther King of Montgomery, Ala., Rev. C. K. Steele of Tallahassee, Fla., and Rev. James M. Hinton of Columbia, S. C., as a few of the many ministers who have been leading the desegregation crusade in their states.

Dr. Eichelberger added: "It is of uncommon significance that the leaders responsible for our gains toward equality of opportunity in education, employment and upgrading, travel on trains and buses, and in other areas of civil rights, are dedicated Negro ministers who have demonstrated their genius of organization, and courage, non-violent, dignified, determined, and effective procedures to make their anguished appeal for membership in the human race heard."

The AME Zion leader concluded: "It is a pity that Negro professionals such as doctors, businessmen and educators in private schools—who are out of reach of economic pressure from white segregationists—have failed miserably to take active leadership in the most critical times ever faced by members of their race."

Evansville AKAs Hear Annual Boule Reports

By WILLIE EFFIE THOMAS

EVANSVILLE — Zeta Zeta Omega chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority held its regular monthly meeting last Saturday evening with Miss Allouise Jaxon, 351 S. Judson, and heard reports on the sorority's 36th national convention, held at Atlanta, Ga., during the holiday season.

Making the reports were Mesdames Alberta Stevenson and Ada Chester and Miss Carolyn Wilson. The chapter's charm school committee met Monday night with Mrs. Chester.

The garden club committee of the Evansville Association of College Women met Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Luther Hill Roberts.

In a recent issue of the Dayton Journal-Herald there is a 9x6 portrait of four-year-old John Derickson, Jr., who was Santa's top man at a party held at the Dayton Art Institute. Guests were preschool students who made their own costumes.

John is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Jaxon and nephew of Miss Allouise Jaxon, 351 Judson. He was guest on the NAACP Youth Council's Thanksgiving weekend broadcast last year, reciting the Pledge of Allegiance.

The Chestnut-Walnut PTA will sponsor its annual "Winter Carnival" Feb. 8.

VIRGIL OSBORNE, Sr., died last Friday morning at his home, 511 S. Evans. A member of St. John's Roman Catholic Church, he was leader of the old Osborne Band which played on railroad and river excursions here around the turn of the century.

He played trumpet in the band, which had as its most notable musician William C. Handy, composer of "St. Louis Blues." Handy played with the band for a short time late in the last century. Other members of the band were Mr. Osborne's brothers, Henry, Lee, Forest and Fremont, all now dead. Surviving are four daughters, Mrs. Goldie Bates and Miss Kate Osborne, both of Evansville; Mrs. Marie Ricketts, Gary, and Mrs. Helen Smith, Elkhart; four sons, Cardwell and Earl Osborne, city; Virgil Osborne, Milwaukee; 25 grandchildren, 32 great-grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Sam Rice, Sr., 81, 2408 Haag, died last Friday night at St. Mary's hospital.

He is survived by the widow,

New Order Emerging In South, Tuskegee Says

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (ANP)—A new order of business for race relations is emerging in the South as a result of the removal of racial barriers previously written into law, states the 43rd annual Tuskegee Institute Report, "Race Relations in the South—1956."

The report released last week by Dr. L. H. Foster, president of Tuskegee, claims:

"Race relations in the South in 1956 may not be measured by acts of obstruction by the segregationists or by the aggressive moves of the desegregationists. The situation may be judged more accurately by assessing the degree of general orderliness in activities affecting race relations."

"Despite some incidents of violence, desegregation activities during the year were generally orderly, which was a most encouraging expression of the vitality of American democracy."

The report emphasizes the importance of legal desegregation. It asserts that:

"Patterns of race relations within the states and their subdivisions have been developed within the framework of law. These patterns have differed because of variations in state and local laws. The non-segregation principle laid down by the United States Supreme Court would make these laws uniform and consistent with the citizenship guarantees of the federal constitution."

REFERRING to the violent episodes and public demonstrations against compliance with federal law, Dr. Foster pointed out that these occurred mainly in communities where public officials apparently condoned them and "did not take action, or were promptly suppressed, in communities whose public officials discouraged them."

He stated further that, "Citizens of nearly every community refused to respond in large numbers to inflammatory appeals or incitement to violence. The people relied on the law and its orderly processes as a major resource."

The 14-page report describes the clarification of the principle of non-segregation by the Supreme Court in 1956 and cites the legal action taken by legislative, judicial and executive branches of federal, state, or local governments that influence relations between the races in education, employment, transportation, voting and recreation.

Cited also are the actions by local governments that express defiance or refusal to comply with the non-segregation principle.

Madison Pastor Honored After 41 Years Service

By GLENN ALUMS

MADISON—Tribute was paid Sunday, Dec. 30, to Rev. S. M. Gaines, pastor of Second Baptist Church for the past 41 years. Rev. Joseph Tyree, Louisville, was guest preacher for the morning service.

Also special guests were Mrs. Jack Bates, Louisville, and Miss Willa Thomas, Indianapolis.

Called to the ministry in 1910, Rev. Gaines was ordained at Mt. Moriah Baptist Church, Richmond, in 1915 and the same year came to Second Baptist Church here.

He first pastored, Pastor of the Richmond church at that time was Rev. C. C. Goings.

Under his leadership the local church has been greatly improved, with many new members added and all debts paid. Rev. Gaines has won the love and respect of the citizens of Madison.

He is the only Negro member of the Madison Ministers' Alliance and is a past president. He is also a member of the Jefferson County Singing group and the Indiana Baptist State Association, being on the state board.

Known for his kindness in rendering service and helping mankind regardless of race or creed, he was guest speaker each day during the week of Dec. 24 on Radio Station WORX here. Those who know him say he is never too busy to do whatever he can to bring cheer and comfort to those in need.

Mr. and Mrs. James Lacey, Indianapolis, visited her parents,

School Heads To Aid U. S. In Youth Training

WASHINGTON — Dr. Herman L. Shibley, Indianapolis general superintendent of public schools, will be among the large group of superintendents of public and parochial schools and leaders of business and labor from 16 metropolitan areas who will attend a national Youth Training Incentives Conference here Feb. 4.

The announcement was made Dec. 31 by a spokesman for the President's Committee on Government Contracts, an agency set up by President Eisenhower to eliminate racial discrimination and barriers in industry through voluntary cooperation.

By this program countless Negro youths in the country's largest cities will be made acquainted with the important fact that opportunities to earn highest pay and secure top rank jobs are open to them as never before.

THE TASK of the educational, business and labor leaders will be to encourage these youths to undertake the training necessary to qualify. The President's Committee is constantly pointing out that the nation acutely needs the best application of skills and aptitudes of all its workers.

By this program countless Negro youths in the country's largest cities will be made acquainted with the important fact that opportunities to earn highest pay and secure top rank jobs are open to them as never before.

THE CONFERENCE was called by Vice-President Richard Nixon, the chairman of the President's Committee, to consider ways of stimulating more young people, particularly the youth of minority groups, to train themselves for the increasing number of skilled and technical positions now open to them.

Approximately 200 persons are expected to attend.

This conference, sponsored by the President's Committee, has the cooperation and support of the American Personnel and Guidance Association (APGA).

The committee is responsible for the elimination of discrimination because of race, religion, color or national origin in work done under government contract.

The APGA is an organization of professional vocational guidance and counseling personnel.

VICE-PRESIDENT NIXON pointed out in his letter of invitation to educators that "industry has created a demand for more skilled and trained workers than our country has produced."

He said the committee is proposing a cooperative effort by educators, businessmen and labor leaders "to encourage the youth of the country to take training commensurate with their abilities."

"This encouragement and incentive for higher training is needed by all youth and it is particularly needed among children of families in the lower income levels," he wrote.

"This group includes a disproportionate number of the youth of minority groups and in this connection the President's committee is especially concerned," Nixon explained.

Public school superintendents who have already accepted the Vice-President's invitation include: Miss Ida Jarrall, Atlanta; John H. Fisher, Baltimore; Claude V. Courter, Cincinnati; Benjamin C. Willis, Chicago; Mark C. Schinnerer, Cleveland; S. M. Brownell, Detroit; H. L. Shibley, Indianapolis; James A. Hazlett, Kansas City; Ellis A. Jarvis, Los Angeles; Omer Carmichael, Louisville.

Also William Jansen, New York City; James F. Redmond, New Orleans; E. A. Dimmick, Pittsburgh; Allen H. Wetter, Philadelphia; Philip J. Hickey, St. Louis, and Hobart M. Corning, Washington, D.C.

Other past masters participating were John W. Hildreth, John F. Cooper, John L. Carter, Richard Beams, Robert Christian, Charles Cox, William Snagen, Joe Larkins and William Powell.

After the meeting the local Daughters of Isis asked the Nobles to visit the Shrine Temple for a covered dish luncheon and refreshments, after which cards and other games were enjoyed.

Evansville Masons Awarded Degrees

EVANSVILLE—District Deputy Grand Master John W. Lagrone of the Prince Hall Grand Lodge of Masons in Indiana, called a special meeting of past masters here recently at the Masonic Hall to confer the past master's degree upon four newly-elected masters.

Advanced were Richard Thomas, worshipful master of McFarland Lodge No. 5; Frank Gordon, worshipful master of Anchor Lodge No. 45; Vincennes; Philip Jackson of Walden Lodge No. 17, Mt. Vernon, and Willis Chaney, Pythagoras Lodge No. 11.

Other past masters participating were John W. Hildreth, John F. Cooper, John L. Carter, Richard Beams, Robert Christian, Charles Cox, William Snagen, Joe Larkins and William Powell.

After the meeting the local Daughters of Isis asked the Nobles to visit the Shrine Temple for a covered dish luncheon and refreshments, after which cards and other games were enjoyed.

NO 'WELCOME' MAT: One week after a fiery cross was burned on the lawn, the Birmingham home of Mrs. Otis Flowers, located in a predominantly white neighborhood, was badly damaged by a thrown bomb. One of Mrs. Flowers' young sons was injured by the dynamite blast, which ripped the siding of the house and damaged the foundation. (Newspress Photo).

Help End Filibusters

If, after the various attempts being made by liberal-minded senators to find some way to curb the filibuster, Senate Rule 22 is allowed to remain unchanged, it may well be partly the fault of the voter at home. The initial attempt on the opening day of Congress to get the rule changed to prevent the filibuster failed, simply because the Northern Democrats and liberal Republicans who sponsored anti-filibuster rulings were not joined by other Republicans who could have ended the filibuster very easily, in the face of the split in the Democratic party over the issue.

Following the initial failure, one resolution has been introduced providing that debate on any legislation could be cut off by constitutional majority of 49 voters after the legislation had been under discussion for 15 calendar days; another would allow the Senate to impose cloture by majority vote at any time and, once imposed, allow 96 hours of debate, an hour for each senator; while the third resolution would allow imposition of cloture at any time on the vote of two-thirds of the senators present.

Any one of these could be an effective weapon against the abuse of a privilege granted senators by senators who perhaps could not see that the theory that there should be no limit on debate would be perverted by Southern demagogues into a brazen method of talking to death any legislation attempting to underscore that part of the Constitution which guarantees equal rights to all Americans. However, unless the voter back home makes his senators know he wants the flagrant abuse of the filibuster stopped, his senators will continue to try to appease what they think is the feeling of all white men.

Clinton on T V

Americans by the millions were able to see, in bold relief, the utter depravity of segregationists as individuals and as group workers in the White Citizens' Councils last Sunday night when the "See It Now" program on CBS Television featured "Clinton and the Law: A Study in Desegregation." The popular Edward R. Murrow show, following the theory that one picture is worth a thousand words, was a massive volume showing how naive, ignorant white people of the South are so easily inflamed by the mad ravings of one man.

In this instance the one man was, of course, John Kasper, the young Washingtonian who left a big city where people were too intelligent to fall for his race-baiting to go to a Tennessee town of 4,000 to find more fertile ground for his seeds of hatred. TV viewers, while able to see how those seeds have grown like wildfire, were also able to see that hatred and violence had not grown so thickly as to choke out the seedlings of law and order, decency and common humaneness.

The villainess of a Kasper or a White Citizens' Council was so shown in its utter repulsiveness that intelligent Americans viewing the television show must have felt a touch of uneasiness, knowing these people are called Americans, too. What could white Americans, who perhaps before coming face to face with a rabid Southerner had been non-committal over the desegregation issue, have felt after seeing in its nakedness the violence, passion and hatred of one ignorant Southern cracker after another? Could their repugnance be any less than that of the intelligent people of Clinton who pledged themselves for law and order after realizing what lawlessness and disorder accomplish?

Any American of intelligence must have seen through the veil of John Kasper, who in his perverted cleverness compared the nine-member Supreme Court of the United States to the "nine-member" Politburo of Soviet Russia. Surely it was with more than utter stupefaction that they heard his sly use of the word "assassination" in talking about the highest tribunal of this country. Surely they were shocked at the utter crass of a segregationist preaching race hatred in the name of Abraham Lincoln. Surely disgust is too mild a term for what law-abiding Americans felt, hearing this young madman call the Ku Klux Klan the "greatest organization in the history of this nation."

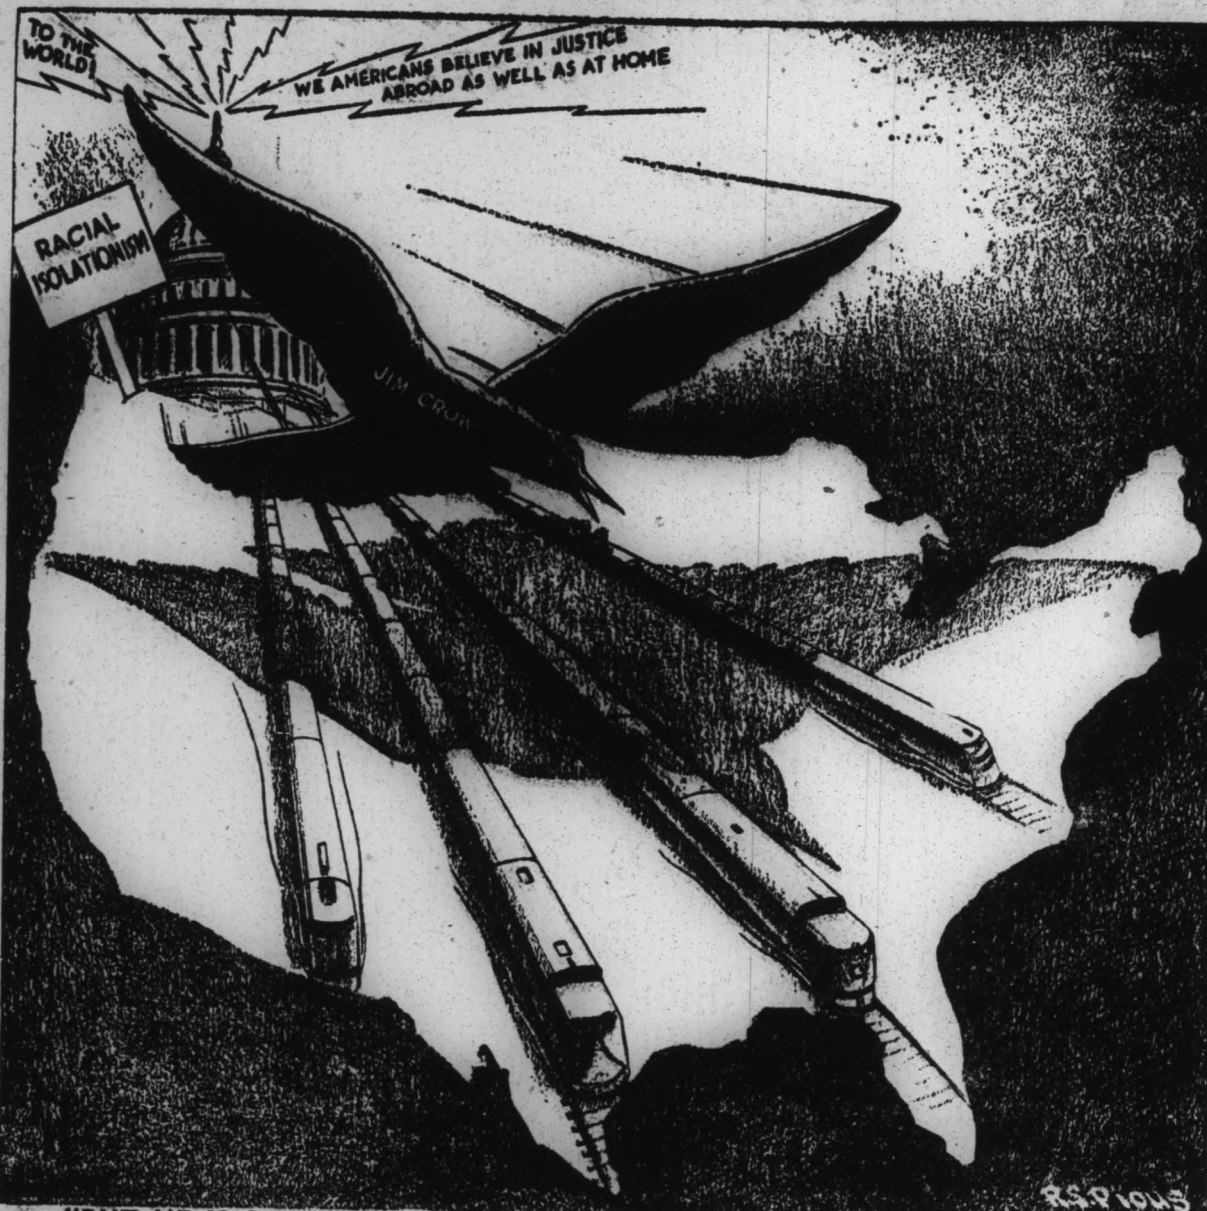

Many Americans have felt that the desegregation battle is an unreasonable bit of greediness on the part of the Negro. Into The Recorder office this week, in fact, has come a letter from a white man who, if he has an ounce of intelligence and honesty to himself, feels this way. Most of these white Americans have had little opportunity to come across sheer evil on a grand scale. If this one contact with it could make all Americans realize the ignorance, violence and un-Americanism of the segregationists, the lesson implicit in the "Study in Desegregation" has been well taught.

Join Polio Fight

Too many times when Negroes are approached for contributions to a charity which is not exclusively Negro, they feel imposed upon and have clear consciences while refusing to give. Actually, of course, there is hardly a charity anywhere which does not benefit the Negro, often far out of proportion to his population, to say nothing of proportion to his giving.

Such a one is the March of Dimes for polio research and treatment. We don't have to point out that Negroes are not immune against polio. Most of us actually know people who have been stricken by the dread disease. Those of us who have seen the work given freely in attempting to cure someone already suffering need no urging to give as generously as possible to the March of Dimes. We should, in fact, spend considerable time and energy urging our friends to give just as much as they can.

In addition to giving of cash, each person owes it to himself, his family and his community to learn as much as he can about polio. He should study enough to know the symptoms, what brings it on, how to avoid it and what steps to take when it strikes. He should insure himself against it by being vaccinated with the Salk vaccine and by again using his influence over his friends, this time by urging them to become vaccinated in addition to giving. Scientists, it is true, are fighting polio on the front ranks, but it is up to an alert, generous public to give them the rear support.

MISCELLANEOUS MUSINGS

By T. C. Johnson

Republican Abandonment of the Negro Citizen (2nd of a Series)

From 1877 to the present, presidents have been influenced more by political expediency, the interests of business and placing the South than in sponsoring measures for the general welfare.

The South, therefore, has had little difficulty in having the United States Constitution construed in its favor, national laws in the interest of Negroes annulled or made useless and causing northern public opinion with regard to Negroes to be nearly the same as that of the South.

Under the circumstances such southern anti-Negro groups as the Regulators, Jayhawkers, Black Horse Cavalry, the Knights of the White Camellia, the Constitutional Union Guards, the Pale Faces, the White Brotherhood, the Council of Safety, the 76 Association, the Rifle Clubs of South Carolina and (by far the most influential of all, the Ku Klux Klan, flourished with little or no opposition to their heinous acts, such as mutilating and killing a great many Negroes.

THE REPUTATION of the White Citizens' Council, a four to one vote in the municipal election at Clinton, Tennessee, in November, 1956, in all probability indicates that the vicious elements will not be able to sway the southern people so easily now as they did in the past.

It also may mean that reason and justice are beginning to replace passion and repression in southern race relations.

Quite a number of those organizations existed and gave vent to their hostility to Negroes before the withdrawal of Union troops from the South. It may be surprising to some that a small number of northern soldiers joined southern gangs in murdering Negroes to hasten the restoration of white supremacy and debase Negroes to the status of second-class citizenship.

THE NEGRO was made to bow to white authority in the South before the removal of federal soldiers as follows: in Tennessee in 1869; in Virginia, Georgia and North Carolina in 1870; in Texas, Arkansas and Alabama in 1874; and in Mississippi in 1875.

By 1876 the southern states except Florida, Louisiana and South Carolina had been restored to white rule. Thus it is clear that taking Union soldiers from the South in 1877 was not the sole reason for southern terrorism against Negroes. However, it did intensify, make easier and appear to have been meant to encourage the steps the South took to debase the Negro.

In 1860 Mississippi Negroes comprised 55% of a total population of 721,000. New problems, not yet solved, came to both races because of the ending of slavery. At that time Negroes in Mississippi and other southern states were understood to have gone as far as they were to be allowed to go in absorbing western culture.

CASTE succeeded slavery as a means of social control of Negroes. When their political sponsors abandoned the freedmen in 1877 they were driven from the polls by fraud, intimidation, legal complexities and constitutional trickery and restrictions were held to be necessary for the continuance of virtual slavery even though Negroes were free theoretically. Consequently Jim Crow regulations and restrictive laws appeared in all southern states. They still are in effect but there is considerable agitation of very recent origin against them.

By propaganda the South did an effective job in convincing the rest of the country and a large part of the world that its Jim Crow rules olira in 1870, in Texas, Arkansas and Alabama in 1874; and in Mississippi in 1875.

and anti-Negro laws were necessary because of unavoidable contacts between white and colored people and cultural differences between the two races.

THE NOTORIOUS black codes gave the former masters control and supervision of the freedmen. Now they are called peonage laws. The black codes and segregation resulted from the belief that the former slaves should be dealt with as a separate, dependent class of people.

Some black code laws which the newly elected southern legislatures passed placed special disabilities on Negroes in regard to carrying weapons and serving as witnesses in court.

Mississippi enacted unbelievably harsh laws denying Negroes the right to own land or even to rent land outside of incorporated towns.

South Carolina allowed Negroes to work only in husbandry, farming or domestic service without being licensed particularly for some other vocational activity.

VOICE FROM THE GALLERY

By Andrew W. Ramsey

"Bread To the Hungarians, Bombs To Negroes"

Birmingham integration leader, the Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth, in a recent nation-wide telecast on the occasion of the bombing of his home, threw down the gauntlet to American do-gooders when he said, "America and the world must know that which America cannot continue throwing bread to the Hungarians and bombs to Negroes."

The fighting clergyman voiced the opinion of countless Negro newspapermen, preachers, labor leaders and everyday citizens. Negroes do not deplore the milk of human kindness extended to the Hungarians by our government and by private organizations and individuals, but they wonder at all of this concern for the victims of oppression, which seemed of late to be non-existent.

Negroes are not irked so much by the fact that reportedly some of the first English words learned by the new Hungarian refugees are "nigger" and other racial epithets nor by the fact that factories and business establishments which refuse to hire Negroes are welcoming the new foreigners as employees as they are by the fact that extreme silence on the part of the government and these self-same charitable organizations and individuals indicates their attitude toward human oppression in Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and elsewhere in Lynchland.

WHEN NEGROES are being subjected to economic reprisals in South Carolina and Mississippi, where are the do-gooders of the government, of the church, of civic organizations and individuals? What helping hands seek to succor the refugees from the lynch mobs of Mississippi? Which of these came to the rescue of the marching Negroes of Montgomery?

Which of them raised their voices about the murder of Emmett Till and the Negro vote leaders in darkest Mississippi?

These are a few of the questions that Negroes are asking while the newspapers and magazines are playing up the splendid example of American democracy in bringing these refugees out of the Stygian night of Soviet oppression into the flood light of freedom in the Home of the Brave.

But beyond that Negroes are wondering where was all of this new found American charity when the British were brutally slaughtering the helpless natives of Kenya, who had been subjected to less than human living conditions for generations by their white exploiters.

Why was no asylum offered to the victims of the Union of South Africa's policy of apartheid, when Negroes were brutally run out of their homes and moved into jimcrow compounds and deprived of all civil rights?

WHY was there no cry of horror when the French strafed thousands of helpless colonialists in North Africa to put down their revolt against undemocratic French rule?

Why was there only a ripple of surprise when the French and English along with the Israeli shot and bludgeoned Egyptian peasants in their quest to recapture the Suez Canal?

The answers to all these questions will serve to point up what is wrong with America's claim to be the bastion of hope of the so-called free world.

Officially as well as unofficially the dominant philosophy of America is, in spite of the Supreme Court decisions, white supremacy.

The government as well as the private citizens react to the suppression of human rights only if the humans whose rights have been suppressed are white and preferably of the Northern European type of whiteness.

A sort of myopia prevents the average American from seeing any inconsistency in sitting idly by and allowing Negroes to be deprived of their civil rights in Dixie or black Africans to be shot down by their white overlords, while at the same time opening the flood gates of immigration to the hapless victims of a lesser type suppression.

THE NEGRO, who is the number one victim of domestic non-democracy, and the Jew, who has been the number one international victim, are both keenly aware of this miscarriage of American justice and fair play.

The Negro has at least found the courage to express his dissonance. The Negro press has been probably the keenest critic of the policy of duplicity on the part of official and unofficial America and there are indications that its complaints are getting through in some quarters.

In the main Negroes congratulate the refugees from strife-torn Hungary and hope that they will become good Americans as measured by the criteria of the Bill of Rights.

Their sole concern is that other victims of oppression, whether domestic or foreign, be extended the same kind solicitude as the Hungarians. So might it be.

"Some People" Say --In Our Town

By W. ALEXANDER CHAMBERS

Edward D. Pierre recently revealed plans for beautifying our city and observed that Indianapolis "has the possibility of being the best park city in the United States at the least cost."

Mr. Pierre is a member of the Indianapolis Section of the Indiana Society of Architects. Further, he cited that ideas are in the making for transforming Indianapolis into a "city of tomorrow." A group of organization of architects will present plans for the city to consider in its redevelopment program, and help the city to turn the plans into realities.

The ideas or plans relate to slum clearance, new city and county buildings, park areas, modernization of old but usable buildings and among other ideas solutions to traffic and parking problems. Among suggestions is a plan for four huge parking centers covering the first block of Indiana, Kentucky, Virginia and Massachusetts Avenues. A thoroughfare running completely around the mile square to channel traffic away from the downtown section of the city is included in the proposals.

Other suggested plans include a new State Plaza group with the present State House at one end of a long mall and new state office buildings to the west of this project. A civic auditorium city-county building and transportation center on the site of the Union Station are also proposed.

There is something of the enervating quality of a truly civic spirited citizen in the classic phrase—"a no mean city of homes." While the "city of tomorrow" as envisioned by some of our fellow citizens savors more so of "delicious excitement" than of "solid emotion, or prove an aspiration," according to John (Viscount) Morley.

Richard H. Oberreich recently announced that more than $2,500,000 has been set aside to purchase land to redevelop a giant slum area in the vicinity of Douglass Park. Mr. Oberreich is president of the Indianapolis Redevelopment Commission which proposes to redevelop the 33-block square area.

The area now includes about 500 homes, housing 1,800 persons, and a few business places. The proposals are to rebuild the section into an "average" residential neighborhood.

According to reports the commission will plan with the homeowners of displaced families and help them find new housing in keeping with their "income brackets." Frank Clabaugh, commission rehabilitation director, stated that some of the families may save their homes, if they can prove the property to conform with standards set by city codes.

The reclamation of slums or blighted areas affords one of the greatest socio-economic challenges confronting urban areas of our civilization. When or where delayed the problems of solution in costs will continue to mount in both tangible and intangible aspects.

However, immediate stressing problems every place over the land involve housing for displaced people at prices they can pay. With a housing shortage perplexing the country as a whole, it remains to be proved that all of these people may be left to their own devices without an eventual great shock to the socio-economic fabric of our land.

George Barton recently reported to the Mayor's Traffic

Improvement Committee findings in the survey of Indianapolis traffic needs. Mr. Barton is a traffic expert or engineer from Chicago.

Recommendations following the survey among others include: Installation of "reversible" traffic lanes on major thoroughfares. These would be one direction in the morning rush period and in the other direction in the evening.

Improvement of traffic channels and controls, such as the concrete "island" in Kentucky Avenue at the intersection with Washington and Illinois. Improvement of critical intersections, such as E. Washington and State, and Warman and W. Michigan.

Other proposals include intersection redesigning and widening of Arlington Avenue over its entire length. The board of works is reported in favor of suggested improvements, and will welcome specific plans.

Seemingly, no reports or findings were made on traffic problems or needs on either north and south or east and west intersecting "thoroughfares" west of Capitol Avenue. But in some opinions this heavy industrialized area affords a challenge on traffic problems or needs, that somehow must be met in the immediate aftermath.

Gov.-elect Harold W. Handley recently revealed that federal highway plans for the future may include making the Indiana turnpike a toll-free highway. However, he stated that this phase of federal highway planning may be "at least two years away."

Among other things he observed that the idea is part of federal highway plans, and he is in favor of taking off the tolls whenever we can. Again he stated that in Indiana we have other pressing problems like our free highway system and our schools.

Strikingly, or every place it seems that all people condone the idea of federal aid to highways, adding in some reflections to the finite debacle of our way of life. But too few people are prepared to embrace the idea of federal aid to education to enhance enlightenment and moral or spiritual and ideal development over our land.

The Great Man

A man's greatness may be measured By love for his fellowman; His generosity and kindness And helping whenever he can.

His wise word timely spoken, His sincere shake of the hand, His genuine smile help to tell The greatness of a man.

He understands the crying need Of people in distress; He travels many roads Just to do his best.

He faces big decisions Looking for the good at hand; He knows self-sacrifice Is his daily duty to man.

Attucks Rolling Again? Returns to Fieldhouse Vs. Shortridge Tuesday

A rejuvenated Attucks squad will return following a one-game "exile" to Butler Fieldhouse on Tuesday to meet Shortridge's interracial Blue Devils.

Bouncing back from their miserable showing against Tech in the City Tourney, the Tigers rolled up their highest total of the season Tuesday night as they poured on 81-54 defeat on Manual.

Purdue, I. U. Win Big 10 Openers

Purdue and Indiana both were off to a flying start in the Big 10 basketball race Saturday as the Boilermakers nipped Michigan State, 72-71, while the Hoosiers outlasted Michigan, 73-68.

Lamar Lundy, Purdue's king-size center, was high scorer in the game at East Lansing with 21 points. Harvey Austin, driving sophomore guard, and Wilson Elson, 1955 "Mr. Basketball" from Gary, also broke into the lineup. It was the first appearance for Elson, who has been having book trouble.

At Bloomington, Hallie Bryant's two straight fielders pulled Indiana into the lead in the game's closing minutes.

I. U. blew a 13-point advantage and Michigan led 62-61 when the ex-Attucks "Comet" came off the bench and hit a long shot that put the Hoosiers ahead to stay. A minute later Hallie drove under for another bucket that made it 65-62. He tallied 9 points in the game.

M. C. Burton subbed at forward for Michigan and scored 5.

Sycamore Center Wins Meet Trophy

TERRE HAUTE—Sam Richardson, Indiana State center, was awarded the Outstanding Player Trophy in the Midwest Tourney held here recently.

The 6-4 Richardson is a South Bend Central graduate.

Indiana State won the tourney.

I. U. BEATS WISCONSIN
BLOOMINGTON—Hallie Bryant scored 8 points as Indiana beat Wisconsin on Monday, 79-68, for the Hoosiers' second Big 10 win.

Several changes by Ray Crowe and his chastened Tigers helped Attucks in starting its winning streak all over again. They included:

1. Senior John Sanders started at guard in place of Sophomore Larry McIntyre, who appears to need another year before he's ready for the first string.

2. Attucks played a man-to-man defense instead of a zone for almost the first time this season.

3. Big Ed Searcy returned to form, hitting 8-of-17 field goals and rolling up 22 points, as well as leading both teams with 16 rebounds.

4. Attucks shot 434 from the field, an even 500 in the second half, and ruled the boards 50 to 30. In the Tech game the Crowmen had fired only 226, and were outrebounced 67 to 38.

These "reforms" were added to the continuing brilliant play of LeVern Benson, who swished 11-for-24 and paced the game's scoring with 23 points.

All in all, it looked like Attucks might be rolling again. A 30-point third quarter recalled the Tigers of old.

Shortridge also won over the weekend, defeating Ben Davis 55-50.

Carter to Test Young Chicagoan

CHICAGO (ANP)—In its first Chicago Stadium promotion of the year, the International Boxing Club on Jan. 30 will send Jimmy Carter, former lightweight champion and veteran of many ring wars, against Bobby Rodgers, a comparative newcomer to the pro ranks who was 1955 Chicago Golden Gloves 135-pound champ.

Rodgers flashed into the fight spotlight recently with a couple of impressive knockouts over Andy Arel of Philadelphia and Daven Moore of Springfield, O., both at the Stadium.

The fight will be televised nationally.

CRUISING THE ALLEYS

Bowlers Jimcrowed In City Tournament

By TINEY BALDWIN

In the Indianapolis Bowling Association's annual City Tournament, with the first week of team play being rolled at the Speedway Alleys on Sunday, I saw the biggest group of segregated bowlers I have seen since Negroes have been bowling in the ABC.

I thought all this was over since Negroes were invited to bowl in the City Tournament. But this was worse than I ever thought Indianapolis could be.

First of all, entry blanks are never received at the Fun Bowl until the last minute. But even so, the setup could be better than it was Sunday.

There are 12 alleys at Speedway and at least 50 teams had not yet bowled, but not one white team was present. The Oscar's Loan team rolled on Alleys 1-2 without an opposing team. Parker House Sausage and Myers Market bowled on 7-8, and Sunset Tavern and Bob's Five on 9-10.

Alleys 2-4, 5-6 and 11-12 were completely open. The house was deserted except for colored teams.

Two years ago I led a delegation which protested this kind of thing to Oscar Behrens, secretary of the association. He told us some of the people at the Fun Bowl said they wanted it that way. But knowing these people and having discussed it with them, I doubt it.

Behrens also promised it wouldn't happen again, but it has happened this year worse than ever.

Our bowlers as a whole have shown everyone by bowling in the News Tournament, ABC Tournament, State Tournament and all other events that maybe we have grown up and are "big boys" now. We have top baseball players, basketball players, track men and athletes in all sports. But Indianapolis bowling looks like it was in Mobile, Ala., or Atlanta, Ga.

There will have to be some looking into this segregation in bowling. Oscar Behrens knows what the score really is, since he at least helps to make up the schedule. But this time we will try to see Ted Siener, president of the association.

SUNSET SUBWAY took the lead in team competition of the City Tournament with an actual of 2,717. Captain William Gooch led the team with 310, while Alvin Gaddie had 596. Parker House Sausage was second in city standings with 2,706. It was paced by Sea Ferguson's 604.

Myers Market was third in the actual with 2,676 and second in handicap with 3,033.

PATTY DRYER, city women's singles champion and one of the top women bowlers of the nation, defeated Alvin Gaddie of the Parker House Sausage Individual League in exhibition match for the benefit of boys' memberships in the Senate Avenue YMCA.

Patty swept the five-game match held at the Fun Bowl with a total score of 971 to 921. Scores were: Dryer—191-197-157-222-204—971 Gaddie—184-192-156-202-187—921

M. T. TELEFERE, star bowler for Myers Market, is ill in the hospital. He has been missed in bowling circles for four weeks.

CLEV. "LITTLE COOPER" STRICKLAND, one of the charter members of bowling in Indianapolis, died Sunday. He rolled with the Chicken Shack team at Central Alleys.

CURTIS WRIGHT of Cleveland paid his annual visit here last week. He is one of the oldest bowlers in the game now. We rolled together with the Indianapolis Ledger team back in 1924 and he taught me quite a bit about the game.

While here, Wright met Bryan Brumfield, another teammate on the Ledger team. Brumfield had to retire from the Parker House team this year because of a slight stroke, but he is up again.

THREE OF THE four city leaders in league bowling Sunday were tan kiegles. William Brown was first with 638; Wesley Harrell second with 615, and Leander Perkins fourth with 604.

Butler Host To Evansville

Butler's amazing Bulldogs, with a victory over Notre Dame tucked under their belt as they closed the "tough part" of their schedule, will entertain Evansville at the Fieldhouse on Saturday.

Evansville recently won its own invitational tourney after Mississippi State withdrew because of Negro players on the Evansville and Denver teams.

Although Butler has concluded the "big-time" section of its schedule except for a return contest with Notre Dame, comparative scores indicate the Bulldogs had better not relax as they head into the Indiana Collegiate Contest race.

Evansville, for instance, beat Denver 80-79 while Butler won 72-69 over the same team.

The scrappy little Bulldogs maintained their "giant-killer" reputation as they knocked off the Irish on Saturday at Scotch Bend, 86-84. Both teams were hotter than firecrackers, Butler hitting .508 from the field and Notre Dame .542.

At the free throw stripe the Irish shot .600 and the Bulldogs, who are second in the nation in charity-tossing, canned 22 of 28 for 786. Sophomore Tom Hawkins scored 19 points for Notre Dame. Hank Foster got 4 and Sheddric Mitchell 2 for Butler.

Machen, Maxim in 'Pre-Title' Fight

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (ANP)—The signing of Eddie Machen, fast-rising California heavyweight, and Joey Maxim, veteran trail horse, for what was reported as a fight leading up to a title match with Floyd Patterson, was announced by Promoter Chris Dundee last week.

They are to meet here Jan. 23. Meanwhile Jack Kearns, Maxim's manager, is busy trying to talk his fighter into the heavyweight title picture. He said $10,000 has been put up in good faith for the winner of the Machen-Maxim fight to meet Patterson in Miami in February. He reasons that Maxim is the only pro fighter with a win over Patterson, hence Joey should get a rematch.

He didn't explain, however, that Maxim got by Patterson when the Brooklyn sharpshooter was only 19 years old—too young even to fight 10-rounders. Maxim won a controversial 8-round decision over Patterson in 1954. However, writers covering the fight thought

Dodger Brass, Writer Peeved at 'Deceit'

NEW YORK (ANP)—Jackie Robinson, the much-admired and much-criticized star of the Brooklyn Dodgers for 10 seasons, has quite baseball in the same manner in which he entered it—amid a heated controversy.

Robinson announced Sunday that he has put away his bat and spiked shoes to enter private business in an effort to gain security for his family.

The veteran Brooklyn infielder, who broke baseball's color line when he joined the National League team in 1947, stirred up a storm over the way he announced his retirement.

News of Robinson's decision to retire came from Look Magazine officials, who reportedly paid him $50,000 for a first-person article in the current issue of the magazine.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT came less than a month after Jackie had been traded by the Dodgers to the New York Giants for $30,000 and Pitcher Dick Littlefield.

Brooklyn now must return both Littlefield and the money to the Giants.

Robinson, in the article titled "Why I'm Quitting Baseball," writes that the trade had nothing to do with his decision.

"If I had not received the good deal that I have with my new company, I would be playing for the Giants this year," he said.

Robinson disclosed he has a two-year contract with the Chock-Full-O'-Nuts restaurant chain as a personnel manager. He said the contract calls for $30,000 a year, with a five-year renewal option.

He said he also will be performing promotional duties for Look Magazine for two years as part of a continuing deal.

THE LOOK DEAL brought sharp criticism from Euzie Bavasi, vice-president of the Dodgers, and Red Smith, syndicated columnist who has been one of Robinson's staunch supporters. Bavasi said Jackie handled the announcement of his retirement in "bush style."

Informing of Bavasi's comment, Robinson said: "After Bavasi's attack on my integrity, not even a million dollars would persuade me to go back."

Jackie added: "I even tried to tell him not to trade Randy Jackson, but I couldn't reach him. 'I didn't want the Dodgers to be hung up without a third baseman if I retired.'"

RED SMITH SAID in his Monday column:

"By selling the news of his retirement from baseball to Look Magazine and holding the announcement for that publication's headline, he has embarrassed the Dodgers, dislocated the plans of the Giants and deceived the work-

THUMBNAILED SKETCHES . . . NO. 7 . . . Pickin' up where we left off several weeks ago. . . . We introduce to you this week, a man who has made long strides in the business world. . . . We refer to Mr. James Bush Jr., popular owner and mgr. of the Sunset Cafe and Sunset Ballroom, located at Indiana and Blake sts. . . . This young man has come a long way in the business world. . . . Having started with Denver Ferguson at the same spot several years ago as manager of the popular bistro. . . . He rose to the position of owner by dint of hard work, hard knocks and very little money.

TODAY HE RATES A spot among the top echelon in the business world as a young man who fought his way to the top by treating people like human beings instead of animals. . . . Mr. Bush has done a fine job at the Sunset and is due a lot of credit for his rehabilitation of the establishment since taking charge. . . . He is a regular fella and goes out of his way to help the other fella.

THE YOUNG BUSINESSMAN has gone to tremendous expense in refurbishing the dancery for the pleasure and comfort of the thousands of persons who patronize the dancery year round. . . . He has made the establishment available for rentals to clubs, civic groups, private parties and community gatherings at a nominal fee. He loves people and likes to see them enjoying themselves amidst pleasant surroundings. Thus he has spent his time and money to make a decent place for people who enjoy the finer things in life. All the fella needs is a break. He'll do the rest.

MR. BUSH IS A sports enthusiast. . . . Enjoying all types of sports at all seasons of the year. . . . In fact he will leave his business to see a good ball game, prize fight, or Crispus Attucks' team in action. . . . He believes in cooperation. . . . He wants to see progress in every field of human endeavor. . . . He is a solid citizen with an initiative in the right direction. . . . Hats off to James Bush Jr. at the Sunset.

DOWN MEMORY LANE . . . Thanks to Mrs. Joyce Thompson Stewart for bringing us the New York Times of December 30, in which we dug John S. Wilson's piece captioned "A FIVE-DISK SURVEY OF JAZZ." . . . Plus the picture of King Oliver's Creole Jazz band. . . . Says Mr. Wilson: "The most valuable, handsomest, most entertaining, largest and most expensive of the recent rash of explorations of jazz is The History of Classic Jazz (Riverside), a five-disk survey of traditional jazz drawn from recordings made for the Paramount and Gennett labels in the Nineteen Twenties, Champion and Solo Art in the Thirties, Circle in the Forties and Riverside in the Fifties."

"STARTING WITH SOME of the background elements of jazz—African tribal music and street cries of Charleston—it moves along through samples of ragtime, the blues (sung by Ma Rainey, Big Bill, Blind Lemon Jefferson), New Orleans style (King Oliver, Jelly Roll Morton), boogie woogie, South Side Chicago (Johnny Dodds, Freddie Keppard), Chicago style (Bix Beiderbecke, Muggsy Spanier), Harlem (James P. Johnson, Fats Waller, Duke Ellington), New York style (Red Nichols, Wild Bill Davidson) and the New Orleans revival (Bunk Johnson, George Lewis, Lu Watters).

"BRIEFER, LESS WIDE-RANGING but fascinating almost every groove of the way is Guide To Jazz (Victor), a single disk issued in conjunction with Hugues Panassie's latest book, which bears the same title. . . . It is made up of re-issues of generally top-notch recordings by some of the great figures of traditional jazz and swing—Earl Hines' band at its best on Grand Terrace Shuffle, Lionel Hampton's superb 1937 version of Don't Be That Way with a coterie of Duke Ellington sidemen, Ellington's 1927 recording of Black and Tan Fantasy—this is the relatively fast and insistent—or Georgia Southern—version), Armstrong, Basie, Waller, Morton, Lunceford, Henderson, Dodds, Bechet—sixteen selections all together and scarcely a dull moment.

"AS A COMPANION PIECE of sorts to the "Guide," there is Great Jazz Pianists (Camden), which covers the jazz piano spectrum from James P. Johnson and Meade Lux Lewis (his classic Honky Tonk Train) to Mary Lou Williams and Errol Garner, touching en route Art Tatum, Fats Waller, Jess Stacy, Earl Hines, Jelly Roll Morton and Duke Ellington, the last three appearing with their bands."

IN THE MAIL BAG . . . A fine scribe jumped in from Miss Cyril Moore, who is now basking in the cold winter weather of Cincinnati, where she has been living for more than a year. . . . The young lady writes that she really enjoyed herself here during the holidays and was delighted to meet so many old friends. She wants them to come and visit her and enjoy the time of a lifetime. . . . Another scribe came in from Hortense and Hiawatha Gray from New York City, where they attended the Robinson-Fullmer fite. . . . Says the card: "You ain't had no lemon if you ain't been in Times Square on New Year's Eve." . . . ## $60,000 Royalty Check For Bill Doggett's 'Honky Tonk'

PHILADELPHIA (ANP) — Bill Doggett's sensational "Honky Tonk" recording, which is already over the 1 1/2 million sales mark, has brought the Hammond organ stylist a fat $60,000 royalty check—one of the biggest payments ever received by a Negro artist for an instrumental recording.

When Bill and his attractive wife Angelina paused in Philadelphia for a brief visit before continuing to their home in Flushing, Long Island, the two were visibly excited over the record-breaking cash payment that "Honky Tonk" has brought them.

A native Philadelphian, Doggett started his musical career here, playing "gigs" with local bands for as little as $2.50 a night. His genius for arranging soon landed him top jobs with such big bands as Lucky Millinder, Louis Jordan and Lionel Hampton.

Considered by many leading jazz authorities as the world's leading Hammond organ stylist, Bill Doggett has taken top honors in many of the nation's top polls of disk jockeys, record sales and juke box plays. In 1956 he was a triple-crown winner in The Billboard's annual poll of the nation's disk jockeys. For a poor boy who once had ideas about becoming a professional baseball player (he played semi-pro ball in Philadelphia for several years), Bill has come a long way from the days he used to play at a week's engagement and anxiously hope to come out with at least $18 in wages.

A King Records star, Doggett is now the chief breadwinner for his recording bosses. His ambition, he says, "is to record an album of nursery rhymes designed to please the ears and hold the attention of little children."

MAXINE SULLIVAN ON "THE WOOLWORTH HOUR" JAN. 13 NEW YORK (ANP) — Singer Maxine Sullivan will be one of three featured guests on CBS Radio's "The Woolworth Hour: The Best in Music" Sunday, Jan. 13 at 1:00-2:00 P. M. EST.

Miss Sullivan will sing "If I Had a Ribbon Bow" and "Give Me the Simple Life" as her vocal contributions.

Teenage Rebel, 'Thunder Over Arizona' Billed For Showing At Walker Sunday

"Teenage Rebel," Twentieth Century-Fox's CinemaScope adaptation of Edith Sommer's Broadway stage hit, "A Roomful of Roses," is the next attraction at the Walker Theatre, starting Sunday.

Starring Ginger Rogers, Michael Rennie, and the three stars of the future, Betty Lou Keim, Warren Berlinger, and Diane Jergens, the Charles Brackett production deals with a mother who has lost her daughter in a divorce settlement, and with her efforts, years later, to win back the love of this innocent victim of her earlier indiscretion.

Brackett also collaborated with Walter Reisch in writing the screenplay for this drama directed by Edmund Goulding. Mildred Natwick, Rusty Swope, Lili Gentle and Louise Beavers head the supporting cast.

Two songs, "Cool It Baby," a rock 'n' roll number, and "Dodie," the background theme, are introduced in the picture.

Companion pic is "Thunder Over Arizona" with Skippy Homer in color.

Now showing are the following pic: "Price of Fear" with Merle Oberon; "Flame of the Islands" with Yvonne DeCarlo; "Streets of Laredo" with Wm. Holden plus "Hop Harrigan" No. 2.

Art Hodes Returns For Jazz Club's First 1957 Concert

Here's good news for all music lovers in the Indianapolis area: The Art Hodes Trio will be featured at the next Indianapolis Jazz Club concert Sunday evening, January 13th, 8:30 p.m. is the time, and the Student Union Building at the Indiana University Medical Center at 1300 West Michigan is the place. The admission will be 90 cents for non-members . . . 50 cents for Club members.

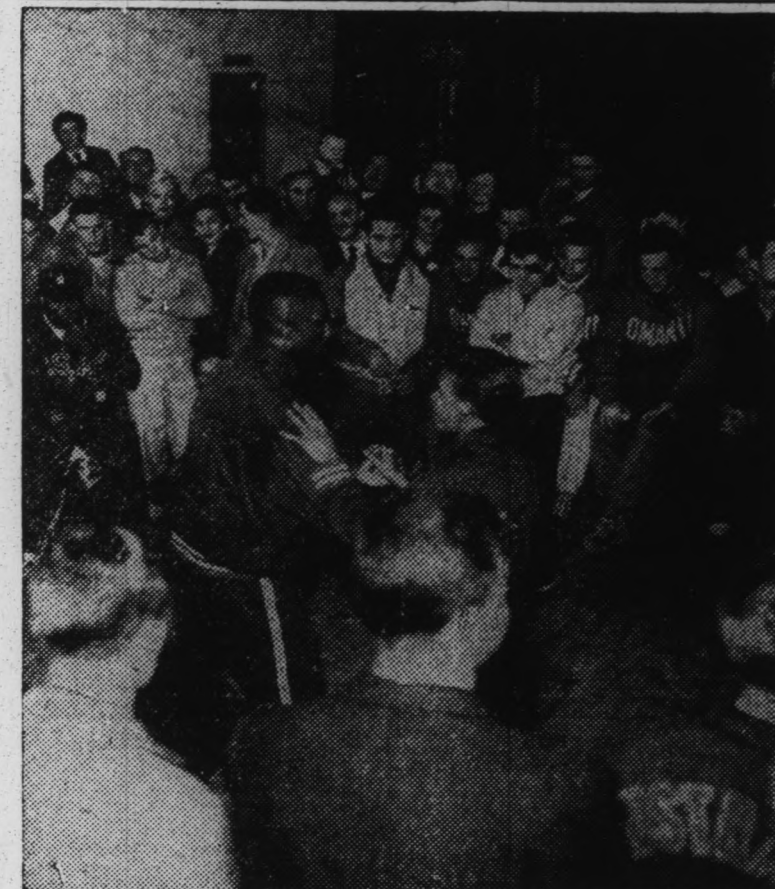

More than 350 listeners, including many new members of the Indianapolis Jazz Club, heard Art Hodes at the overflow concert at John Herron Art Institute late in January a year ago. That concert aroused the interest that led to the formation of our Club.

The Art Hodes Trio will include Art himself on piano, Fred Moore on drums, washboard, and vocal specialties, and Herb Guy, local string bass player many of you will remember so well from the first Hodes concert.

Art Hodes is an honorary member of the Indianapolis Jazz Club. Musician, writer and one-time editor of a jazz magazine, and speaker. Art has recorded piano solos and band sides on many labels: Solo Art, Decca, Blue Note, Signature, Session, Jazz Record, Black and White, and others. His latest is an LP released by Mercury, which will be on sale at the concert. Hodes played with his

KNOW YOUR ENTERTAINERS

No. 43 in a Series

NAPTOWN'S GIFT to the entertainment world... Lovely Dorothy Simmons, the young lady who has made a name for herself as a vocalist with the supreme touch... She has regaled thousands of pleasure lovers with her unique song-styling... Hers has always been a touch of tomorrow in her songs of today.

The young lady continues as a Hoosier favorite, having appeared in the top bistros of the city and state and with some of Hoosierdom's most popular bands... We first heard Dorothy sing with Duke Hampton's band in the Cotton Club, and her vocalizing, enunciation, tone and feeling played a big part in helping to win hundreds of localities to the warmth of her songs... She seemed to be always trying to blend her songs with the feeling of her audience... Singing was a part of her and she worked hard to make her songs a part of her life, with depth and feeling... To hear her sing the songs she loved was indeed an inspiration... We know, because we enjoyed her songs. (The Saint)

MUSICAL UPBEAT

By BOB WOMACK

NOW THAT THE BIG HOLIDAYS are a thing of the past for another year we are all getting back to normal and we do mean that... A telephone call jumped into port from Mrs. N. Johnson, mother of the great local trombonist, Jay Jay Johnson, were advised that the cat who put Naptown on the musical map passed thru on last Wednesday morning with his new interracial combo consisting of five all-stars including himself.

The unit had just completed a week-long gig at the Peacock Lounge down St. Louis-way. The group left that evening (Wed.) for New York City where the boys will rest for a few days before invading the Southern part of the East coast playing one-nites. Mrs. Johnson also stated that her son has a new album out featuring the combo, namely "J for Jazz". The platters are now on sale at Ayres' Record Shop.

WORD HAS JUST REACHED US that my good friend, Fred Stevenson, vocalist passed away on last Sunday morning after a short illness. The Recorder staff and yours truly sends our deepest sympathy to the family. You were a great guy in our books Fred.

CHANGES MADE... Hugh "Mr. Drive" Watts, sensational drummer is currently wailing with Larry Liggett's group at Mate's White Front Tavern replacing Booker Hollis... Oliver "Cokie" Napier has taken "Mr. Drive's" seat with the Hampton Sisters' combo.

AS MANY of the fans know the "Beat," is written for the musicians-entertainers and the public-at-large. We believe in FAIR PLAY TO ALL, this column is also written on nothing but facts. In the past, it has been 98 1/2 percent right in its coverage to you out there. We will continue to stay in the same key.

There is a certain veteran band-leader-promoter here or was, at this writing who has been pushing the local cats around pertaining to their "bread," before and during the holidays, might add, that in the event this smart guy doesn't get on the ball quick with the "loot" the Beat will put his business in the streets, locally and thru the wires of the Associated Negro Press, the latter serving over 300 newspapers covering the nation and else-where... Dig... R.D.H.

INDIANAPOLIS' MUSICIANS' LOCAL NO. 3, NEWS:... The following bistros have been put on the unfair list in the city as of December, 1956—The Club Udell, 1071 Udell St., Illinois Cocktail Lounge, 2166 North Illinois St. and Izzy's Tavern, 1702 South Keystone Ave.

THE SECOND annual Musicians' Entertainers' Dream Band Poll for '56-'57 is just around the corner many have been selected by the judges and have been advised as such. Some of these, do not have their pictures on file in the Theatrical offices as yet. Please do so at once; failure to do this might change the places of the winners. Thanks.

JIMMIE "MR. PIANO" COLLINS and wife Sarah entertained the following in their lovely home last week with all the "works," believe me when I tell you: Dora R. Smith, Sam Kirkland, Joe Berry, Flash Lawrence, of the dance team of Slip and Slide, Violet Williams, owner of the Illinois Cocktail Lounge and Yours truly. The house jumped awhile with Jimmie playing the 88 and Flash beating the boards... Thanks to the Collins for a fine evening.

GUY LOMBARDO, the famous bandleader of sweet music hobby and sports interest is speedboat racing. He has won numerous cups which are displayed in the trophy room of his elegant Long Island restaurant, Guy Lombardo's East Point House. The trophy room is a meeting place for singers and song-writers, who often provide impromptu entertainment.

A VARIETY MAGAZINE reporter was curious, when taken to a ner-Munch seaside spa, a charming retreat called the Hotel Bachmair in Eggen on the Tegern See, whether Oscar Hammerstein 2nd and the late Jerome Kern were ever actually in Eggen on the Tegern See (excerpt from their "Music in the Air" score). To which the librettist replied:

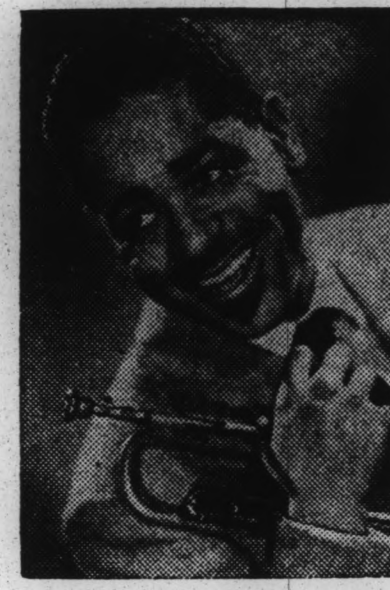

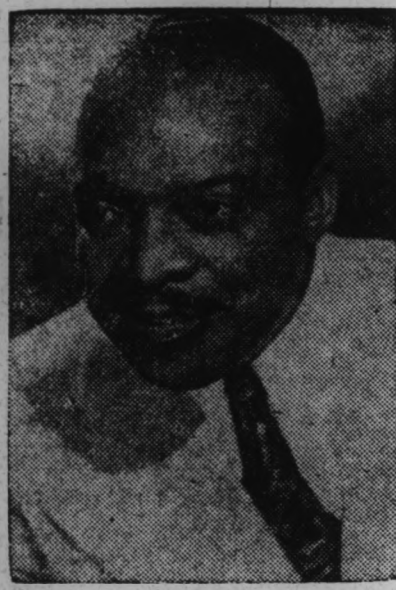

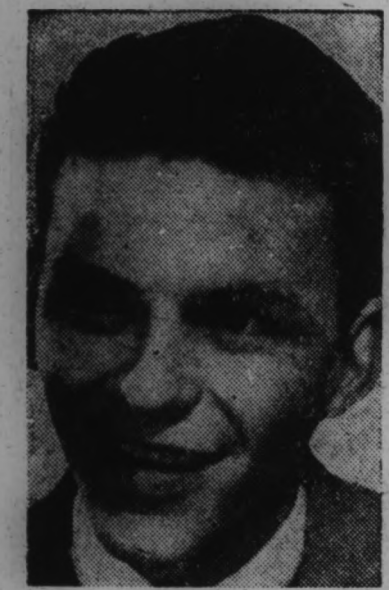

"I make a specialty of writing songs about bodies of water that I have never seen. I didn't get to the banks of the Mississippi until 30 years after I had written 'Ol Man River.' Dorothy (Mrs. Hammerstein) made me stoop over and put my hand in his muddy waters."

LEONARD BERNSTEIN's musical commentaries, broadcast on CBS-TV's "Omnibus" series last fall, will be put on Columbia wax. Included are Bernstein's analysis of the history of Jazz and his discussion of Beethoven's Fifth Symphony. He'll also record some of his own compositions as conductor and 88'er.

Wins "Best Singer" Title

NEW YORK: Mary Louise Watson (right) receives "Best Singer" trophy from Elaine Brooks, well-known radio disk jockey dressed as "Miss Kentucky Bred," at 11th annual ball of National Association of Negro Press Photographers at Rockland Palace, here, recently. Apollo Theater in Harlem sponsored the trophy. Miss Watson won title in contest among non-professional vocalists during the gala affair. Miss Brooks' race-jockey costume — a satin lounging outfit in gleaming gold with red stripes — was one of evening's big surprises. Belliciano, who designed it, got idea from Kentucky Bred bourbon label which, in turn, was inspired by colorful blouses worn by jockeys at horse races.

NEW YORK (ANP)—Frank Sinatra (left to right), Count Basie and Fats Domino were voted "Personalities of the Year" in popular, jazz and rhythm and blues music respectively in DOWN BEAT magazine's 20th Annual Music Poll... Duke Ellington was elected to the Music Hall of Fame. Complete results of the poll appeared in December 26 issue of DOWN BEAT. The survey, which canvassed readers of music's most widely read publication, also revealed Sinatra to be the voters' favorite male singer, with Ella Fitzgerald winning in the female category. Other winners were Dizzy Gillespie, trumpet; J. J. Johnson, trombone; Paul Desmond, alto sax; Stan Getz, tenor sax; Gerry Mulligan, baritone sax; and Tony Scott, clarinet. Honors in the piano category went to Errol Garner, Ray Brown won on bass; Shelly Manne on drums; Milt Jackson, vibes; Art Van Damme, accordion; Bud Shank, flute; Don Elliott, miscellaneous instrument; Joe Williams, male band vocalist; Jo Ann Greer, female band vocalist; John Lewis, composer; and Les Brown, dance band.

The 3 Rockets Now Playing Fri. And Sat. Nites At Cactus Club

The Cactus Club, located at 818-20 W. 30th st., has added music with a bang at the bistro every Friday and Saturday night from 8 until 1 a.m. The lucky combo installed at the establishment for the first time is the well known 3 Rockets, a red hot trio composed of Monta Phillips on piano, Bill Roy Smith on sax, and Vic Corbett on drums.

The popular Northside bistro offers the best in drinks and entertainment with lovely Ruth Easley as hostess, plus plenty of free parking space in rear of the club.

Jazz Saxophonist Flays Magazine Awards Poll; Questions Stan Getz Superiority

By BAKER E. MORTEN
For Associated Negro Press

CHICAGO (ANP)—Tenor saxophonist Sonny Stitt, regarded by some jazz enthusiasts as a second Charlie Parker, took a healthy swing at Downbeat magazine's 20th annual Music Poll ratings last week and questioned its nomination of sax player Stan Getz as the top tenor man in the jazz field.

Stitt, who recently closed an engagement at Chicago's Crown Propeller Lounge, told this reporter that "in his opinion there were many tenor men in jazz that should have rated above Getz."

Stitt said that Getz is "good, but not the best." He said he felt that Sonny Rollins, Hank Mobley, Ben Webster and Lester Young were some of the tenor sax artists that should have bested Getz in the poll ratings.

The veteran disciple of jazz, who has definite earmarks of the late Charlie Parker in his music, pointed out that his ratings of alto saxophone artists in the magazine would have been entirely different too.

Getz, somewhat of a follower of the Lester Young style of playing, was named winner and top man among tenor sax players in the magazine's recent music poll. On alto, Paul Desmond came in first.

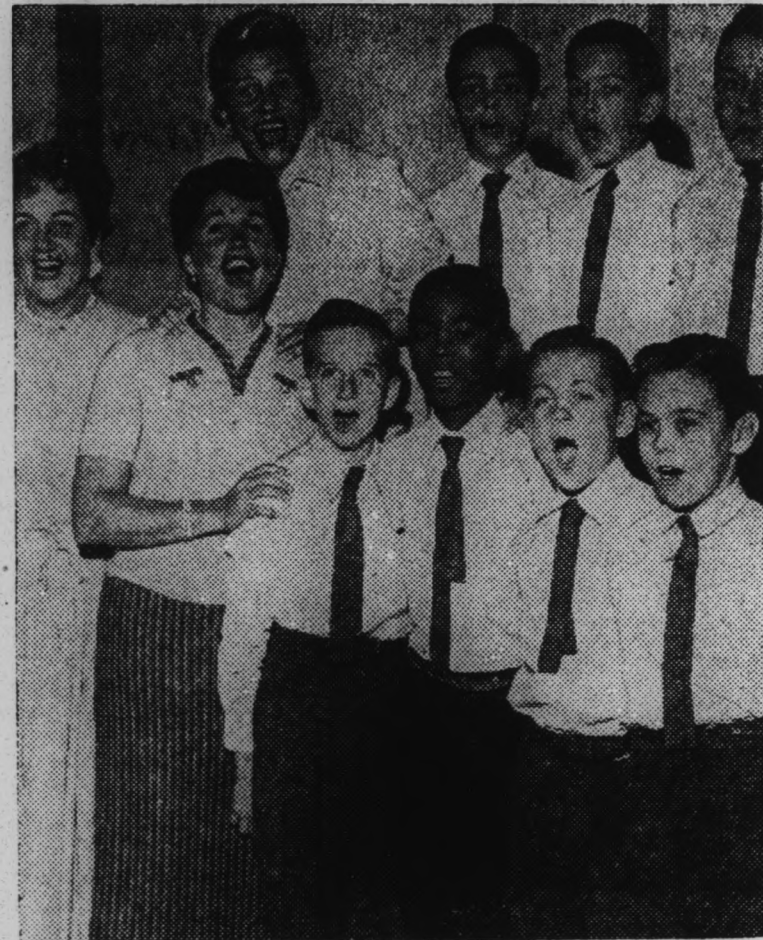

Stitt declared that if he were rating the poll, Getz would have placed behind Rollins, Mobley, Webster, and Young.

Sonny said he rated fourth in this year's poll, adding: "I am rated that I came in fourth. Last year, I was in 11th place."

Downbeat's survey canvassed readers of the music publication naming Dizzy Gillespie winner on trumpet; J. J. Johnson winner on trombone; Paul Desmond on alto sax; Gerry Mulligan on baritone sax and Tony Scott on clarinet.

Count Basie, Fats Domino, and Frank Sinatra were voted "Personalities of the Year" in popular, jazz and rhythm and blues music.

Gale Agency Founded In 1940 Rated As Top Talent Agency In The Nation

HOLIDAY HARMONY: The Andrews Sisters receive an assist from the Mitchell Boys Choir to usher in the holiday season with a new Capitol recording called "A Child's Christmas Song." George "Tig" Webster, 13, of Los Angeles (front row) is a regular member of the choir which has been interracial for many years. (NEWS-PRESS PHOTO).

NEW YORK—Behind any successful performer is a talent agency and today the Gale agency is considered by many Negro stars as important to their financial success as the Wright Brothers were to the airplane. Founded in 1940 by Tim Gale, who had been band-leader Chick Webb's road manager, the firm has discovered, groomed and built over 25 septia stars into the 92% income bracket.

While traveling with Webb, who was managed by his older brother, Moe, Tim was amazed at the poor booking that Negro performers had to accept when on tour and which saw many of them getting as low as $50 per night. After talks with Moe he opened offices on West 48th Street with Webb, Ella Fitzgerald, Cab Calloway and the original Ink Spots as his first clients.

Since that day the one-room office has grown into an entire floor with a big interracial staff who talk daily to every corner of the world with nite club, theatre and ballroom operators. Among the names under contract to the agency are Sarah Vaughan, Erskine Hawkins, Illinois Jacquet, Buddy Johnson, Roy Hamilton and Arthur Prysock. This is only a partial list of the 75 dancers, singers, comedians and bands they book into clubs from Harlem's Baby Grand cafe to the Oasis in Los Angeles.

Unaffected by the success of the agency and the pattern of integration that runs through every phase of the business from road managers to secretaries in his office, Tim Gale says that he's just interested in a client's talent and not his color or race.

But what he is mostly interested in is finding and scouting new talent. It isn't anything for him to leave his office and fly 1,500 miles to hear a new singer or band that someone has phoned him about. After he gets them under contract the next big step is guiding the embryo stars career until he becomes a big headliner.

The Lowdown

By MASCO YOUNG

For Associated Negro Press

"TOP TEN R & B" POLL VOTER SAYS SHIP... DIGS B. B. KING FOR BREAKFAST: IVORY JOE HUNTER FOR LUNCH, AND COUNT BASIE FOR DINNER"

NEW YORK (ANP)—Several weeks ago (four columns ago to be exact) we announced our poll to select the "Top 10 Rhythm & Blues Artists of 1956," and we invited The Lowdown's readers to be the sole judge and jury in the naming of winners in each of the ten categories. But before we get into the actual results of our first R & B poll, we'd like to pass on to you what we considered one of the most interesting letters we received in connection with the "Top 10 Rhythm & Blues Artists of 1956" poll. This letter is from Miss Lucille Fraurk of Tampa, Florida, a rabid rhythm 'n' blues fan who reads The Lowdown each week in the Florida Sentinel.

Said Miss Fraurk: "I am an R & B fan. I enjoy them very much. I dig B. B. King for breakfast, Ivory Joe Hunter for lunch and Count Basie for dinner. I dig them all the most."

After listing her nominations for top honors, Miss Fraurk then closes her letter by saying: "Excuse this bad writing. I didn't write it, my right hand did. So later 'gator' after supper hucklebucker. Dig? Oh yeah!"

Now how about that!

TOP TEN RHYTHM & BLUES ARTISTS OF 1956

1. FATS DOMINO—Best Male Vocalist. Fats received some strong competition from guys like Clyde McPhatter and B. B. King, but the New Orleans-born Domino's sensational "Blueberry Hill" and "I'm In Love Again" helped to push him far ahead in voting.

2. LA VERN BAKER—Best Female Vocalist. LaVern's big ones like "Can't Love You Enough," "Still," and "Tra La La" placed her in a class all by herself. No female vocalist even came close to her in voting.

3. BILL DOGGETT—Best Instrumental Group. "Honky Tonk" made this group top them all.

4. THE PLATTERS—Best Vocal Group. With consistent hits like "Great Pretender," "Magie Touch," "My Prayer," "It Isn't Right" and "On My Word of Honor," this group was a natural choice in best vocal group class.

5. SOLOMON BURKE—Most Promising Male Vocalist. A 17-year-old newcomer, Burke was a big hit because of his "Walking In A Dream" and "No Man Walks Alone."

6. DINAH WASHINGTON—Most Promising Female Vocalist. An odd category for veteran blues singer Dinah, but voters seem to indicate that her new choice of tunes and her new "reduced-look" will make her the vocalist to watch in '57.

7. SIL AUSTIN—Most promising Instrumental Group. His "Slow Walk" convinced some R & B fans that his instrumental group bears watching in the future.

8. TEEN AGERS—Most Promising Vocal Group. Led by Frankie Lyman, these juvenile hitmakers are destined to have many years of success.

9. "ON MY WORD OF HONOR" By B. B. King—Best Song By An R & B Artist. King's was the first on the market, and voters felt it set the stage for The Platters' smash recording of the same.

10. COUNT BASIE—Best Big Band In R & B Field. Despite the controversy with Alan Freed, CBS's popular rock 'n' roll deejay who said the R 'n' R fans didn't dig Basie, the Count came out on top with ease. His closest competitors were Earl Bostie and Buddy Johnson, both big favorites among the rhythm and blues lovers.

We are grateful to the readers who were kind enough to send us their votes, without which this first annual Top Ten Rhythm & Blues Artists poll would not be possible. We're also grateful to the many artists, recording firms, theatrical agencies and others who provided us with recordings and news items about personalities during the past year. And, incidentally, we would appreciate your reactions to the winners of our first Top Ten Rhythm & Blues Artists poll. Address your comments to Masco Young, 2808 W. Oakdale St., Philadelphia 32, Pa.

Clinton School Case Shown On CBS-TV

CLINTON, Tenn. (ANP) — A close look at the events and the actors in the drama of a peaceful Tennessee town as it struggles to comply with a Federal Court order calling for it to integrate its high school, was presented in the "See It Now" program, "Clinton and the Law: A Study in Desegregation" last Sunday, over the CBS Television network.

More than 70,000 feet of film was shot by two "See It Now" camera crews in the troubled community during the past several weeks.

MANY CITIZENS of the small community (population 4,000), who had remained quiet during the months that it took for the desegregation crisis to erupt in Clinton, spoke freely to the "See It Now" reporters.

Viewers saw and heard comments by the White Citizens' Council as well as by their opponents. They heard the Rev. Paul W. Turner describe the attack on him and deliver his first Sunday sermon after the attack. They attended a PTA meeting; a Clinton H. S. basketball game; and a joint meeting of the Clinton Chamber of Commerce and Junior C. of C.

Others who willingly gave the "See It Now" staff their explanations of and reactions to the events which brought tear gas, tanks and the National Guard to their town, included:

ing newspapermen whose friendship he had and who thought they had his confidence.

Jackie expressed regret that he had not talked to him at the time of the trade, explaining that he was under a bond of secrecy to the magazine publishers.

"I think they will understand why this was one time I couldn't give the whole story as soon as I knew it," Robinson wrote.

THE MAGAZINE article added: "I couldn't tell Mr. Stoneham (Horace Stoneham, owner of the Giants) I was through with baseball forever because I had agreed long ago to write this story—when the time came—exclusively for Look And as a matter of fact, I was working on the story when Mr. Stoneham called to tell me of the trade.

"I've been thinking since I was 34 that I should be thinking of my future. After you've reached your peak, there's no sentiment in baseball. You start slipping and pretty soon they're moving you around like a used car. You have no control over what happens to you. I didn't want that."

Jackie, who broke into organized baseball in 1946 with Montreal of the International League, a Brooklyn farm team, received an estimated $33,000 from Brooklyn last season, excluding his World Series share. That was reported to be a cut from his 1955 salary.

MAYS GETS $35,000 AGAIN THIS YEAR

NEW YORK (ANP) — For the second straight year Willie Mays, outfielder for the New York Giants, has signed a contract calling for $35,000.

The famous "Say Hey Kid" was gleeful after the signing last week.

The Giant organization said there was no sense in cutting Mays' salary just because the club had a poor year, even though Willie was off his former National League batting hit only .296 in 34 runs and socked but 38 homers. This was well below his 319 average, 127 RBIs and 51 home runs in 1955, when he was second in the league.

Aussie Gals Smitten By Tan Olympic Stars

NEW YORK (ANP) — The passionate emotions that Australian women displayed while asking American Olympic officials for dates with Negro athletes brought protests and complaints from at least one official of the U. S. Olympic Committee during the recent games at Melbourne.

According to a story by Lou D'Alpuget from Melbourne in the Sidney Sun, Negro athletes at the Olympic Games were "pestered" by the Australian girls.

The incidents brought complaints from J. Lyman Bingham, director of the U. S. Olympic Committee, who said, "In America we don't agree with white women associating with Negro men."

THE FOLLOWING is the text of D'Alpuget's article: "While women are pestering American Olympic team officials for dates with Negro athletes."

"They are telephoning American headquarters in the Olympic Village almost incessantly."

"I have been amazed at the attitude of these girls," said J. Lyman Bingham, executive director of the U. S. Olympic Committee.

"We have had calls for colored boys at all hours of the day and night."

"The girls do not seem to be interested in our white boys and yet we have a large number of fine young lads on the team."

"The girls who want to date the colored lads are not just irresponsible teenagers, either."

"MANY of them are adults, from fashionable parts of Melbourne."

"Last night we had a special request from a woman who said she had arranged a party for Charles Dumas, our boy who won the high jump."

"We took the lady's name and telephone number and gave the message to Dumas."

"Then she rang back and said that she had 10 nice young girls coming to the party."

"Would we tell Dumas that they would like him to bring along nine of his friends."

"We passed on this message, too, and Dumas said he would go to the party."

"But I do not believe he went to the party."

"As far as we know, he met a few friends and spent the evening in the recreation hall of the Village."

"In America we do not agree with white women associating with colored men."

"I am astonished at the attitude of women here."

"But our boys are free to come and go as they wish."

The Machen-Maxim fight will be televised nationally.

Negro Twins Win 1957 Birth Prize

CHICAGO—For the third consecutive year, Negro twin girls arrived during the first 12 hours of the New Year to win $500 in gifts in the ninth annual Toni Twin Baby Derby.

Daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Winn of 701 E. Mulberry, Sherman, Tex., they are among 17 sets of New Year's Day arrivals to win a jackpot of gifts in the Derby conducted by the Toni company, leading cosmetic manufacturer.

The lucky twins will receive Storkline cribs, 768 containers of Gerber's baby food, Kantwet innerspring crib mattresses and Tour-a-beds, a special selection of Love dresses, Trundle Bundle infants' wear, a Hedstrom twin baby carriage, an assortment of toys from Playskool, and a year's supply of White Rain Lotion shampoo.

WANT JIMCROW BACK

WASHINGTON—The four Southern members of a six-member House subcommittee are urging reestablishment of racially segregated public schools in the District of Columbia, it was learned last week.

They contend that two years of "forced" integration have lowered educational standards, resulting in "appalling" disciplinary problems and creation of sex problems of vital concern to parents.

The four re-segregationists are Reps. James C. Davis (D. Ga.), John Bell Williams (D. Miss.), Woodrow Wilson Jones (D. C.), and Joel T. Broyhill (R. Va.).

Two of the assaulters were charged with conspiring against civil rights and posted $3,000 bonds. The other four, charged with assault and battery were released on $4,500 bonds.

Hutchins' wife said her husband knew one of the men and considered him a friend. He did not know the others, she said.

According to Hutchins' story, four masked men attacked him from behind and threw a sack over his head. They then tied him to a tree and beat him with a board.

The reason given for the attack was remarks allegedly made by Hutchins in support of integration at a Lions Club auxiliary two or three years ago. Hutchins denies having made such a speech.

Teen Talk

By THE SNOOPER

Now that school has started back from Christmas vacation long enough for you guys and dolls to be getting yourselves into things, and since observing people once they've gotten into things has always been The Snooper's business, here I am, back peeping through every keyhole, looking around every corner and snooping in every parked car.

Now to pass on to you the results of a week of gentle snooping. Is it true that Jo-Ann Wilkins has eyes only for James Hill? . . . Ronnie Gills, why don't you wake up and live? Can't you see Ruth Brown is killing for a chance? . . . Say, Alberta Wilkins, is it true you are waiting for Jesse Cunningham to come home? . . . Bill Elliot, are you still trying to talk to Jamesella Sanders? Say, Jamesella, why don't you give the poor boy a break? . . .

Say, Pat Williams, everyone would like to know the happenings between you and Thomas Digs. I hear that Melvyn Davis and Larry Phillips are really cooling it in school. But, Larry, what about Barbara Carpenter?

Lena Hodges, who is the lucky boy you have been seen wearing a gold cross for which you guard with your heart? Is it Donald Cockerell or is it Alfred's? Say, Ruth Sheridan, why don't you quit giving Clarence Saunders such a hard time? Don't be a square all your life, you know he's killing for you every bit of the way. . . . Christine Henard, keep up the good work with Bobby Miller. . . . Carl Mitchell, it is time you got a girl friend. You know Phyllis Oliver likes you, so how about it?

JUNE COFFER, don't take it so hard, Maurice Cannon will be back. . . . James Gray, keep cooling yourself with Theresa Sheridan. I'm telling you now that it is true love. . . . Jesse Mason, you had better put some chains on that pretty girl I have seen you in the show with these past Sundays, because she is what all the boys would like to call their own. I hear Ervin Nelson is madly in love with Sharon Reudus. Come down off your ivory tower, Sharon, and give him a chance. . . . Tech's playboy, James Smith, is trying to hit it off with Jean Scott. . . .

Robert Blackmore hasn't been seen with Ronnie Lyman lately, maybe he likes Sharon Reudus. . . . Carol Williams, why don't you give Edgar Searcy a chance, or is it that you and A/2c W. Park are still working out? . . . Vanda Harris, is love the reason why no one else has taken A/2c Donald Smith's place? . . . I hear that Robert Eubanks and Sandra Wink are going steady now. . . . Leora Cuthrell, formerly of here, now living in Evanston, Ill., would like for her many friends to know that she is still thinking of them. I hear Odell Donel is making frequent trips to the Eastside to see a certain girl. Odell, what is her name? Could it start with the letter "E"?

Delores Payne, who were you with Saturday night at 31st and Northwestern avenue? Let's not have any sneaks now. . . . Delores Merriweather seems to be driving a '52 Olds to school everyday. Delores, who has been giving you the keys? Could his name be Bobby? . . . Janice Carroll, why don't you let the younger generation grow up? By that I mean "Louis Williams," you know. . . . Norma Jean Hill and Steven Warren are really making a nice couple. . . .

I hear that Ernestine Jones really kills for Paul Shields, and he really kills for her, too. . . . Donna Chester, why is it that you're out at the skating rink a lot now? Is it because of this new boy you met? . . . Joyce Knox, I see you and Robert Anderson are still going strong. . . . Jean Scott, why won't you get wise about Donnie Brown and Brenda Dickie, and get yourself another boy? . . . What has happened to Faye Brownlee and Sonny Harden? They aren't seen together too much anymore. . . .

JUDY WARE, make up your mind who the lucky fellow is. I hear it is Charles Amos. Is it true? . . . Sharon Betty, how are you and Albert Myers hitting it off? . . . Pam Stevenson, is it true you go for Edgar Searcy? . . . What is this I hear about Cohen Lee Strong and Opal Sharp? . . . It seems as if Betty Driggs is going around telling everyone that Michael Brown goes for her. . . . It seems that Mable Trotter is having a hard time getting rid of Dobby Summers. Is it love, Bobby? . . . The Snooper would like to know more about his fabulous girl by the name of Barbara Jean Hall, who lives in the Lexington Apartments. . . . I hear that Annie Mae Adkins is really going for a new boy in town by the name of Carl McLeath. . . . Is it true that we may hear wedding bells for Bepiney? . . . Tommy Hopkins, who is Mae Anderson and Ervin going for now? A certain girl wants to know very badly. . . . I hear that Oscar Alexander and Shirley Woods are going good. . . . Ella Owens, what has happened to Hershell Hayes? You had better keep a close eye on him. . . .

Harriett Mahone and Dennis Smith are like two straws in a coke, and are steady in love with each other. But, Harriett, what happened to Johnny Billips? . . . Irene Henry and Robert Coleman are still killing for each other. . . . Well, let's call it quits for another week. But be on your toes, for I am always watching to catch some unsuspecting soul.

Fire Stations Integrated In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES—Negroes have been integrated in 16 fire stations of the Los Angeles Fire Department, the Los Angeles Mirror (white daily) reported last week in a feature article.

Fire Chief William L. Miller was credited with placing Negro personnel in the fire prevention department and in supply maintenance shops in addition to those assigned to battalion stations. The Los Angeles Tribune (Negro weekly) pointed out that the fire chief offered no comment on the decline of Negro personnel in the department from 83 to 73 within the past year.

Ratio of Negroes to whites in the department, the Mirror said, is 27 compared with 18 percent Negro employment in federal jobs in Los Angeles.

The daily newspaper also quoted the fire chief as opposed to a human relations program to improve race relations within the department, declaring, "If you put a teacher in front of them to teach human relations you'll get exactly the reaction you don't want."

ON THE OTHER HAND, the Mirror said, Chief Miller admitted racial tension and feeling in the department have not subsided. The Mirror's article took no note of the complaints of Negro firemen that they are subject to the same type of mistreatment directed against the first Negro fireman integrated under former Fire Chief John N. Alderson.

Negro firemen say they are ostracized, insulted and denied participation in community activity within the fire stations. Some have asserted many higher-ups in the department are openly or covertly engaged in a program to sabotage the integration program.

Handbills Urge Negroes To Get Rid Of Rev. King

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Handbills urging Negroes here to repudiate their leadership and run the Rev. Martin Luther King out of town were distributed in Negro residential neighborhoods for the second time last week.

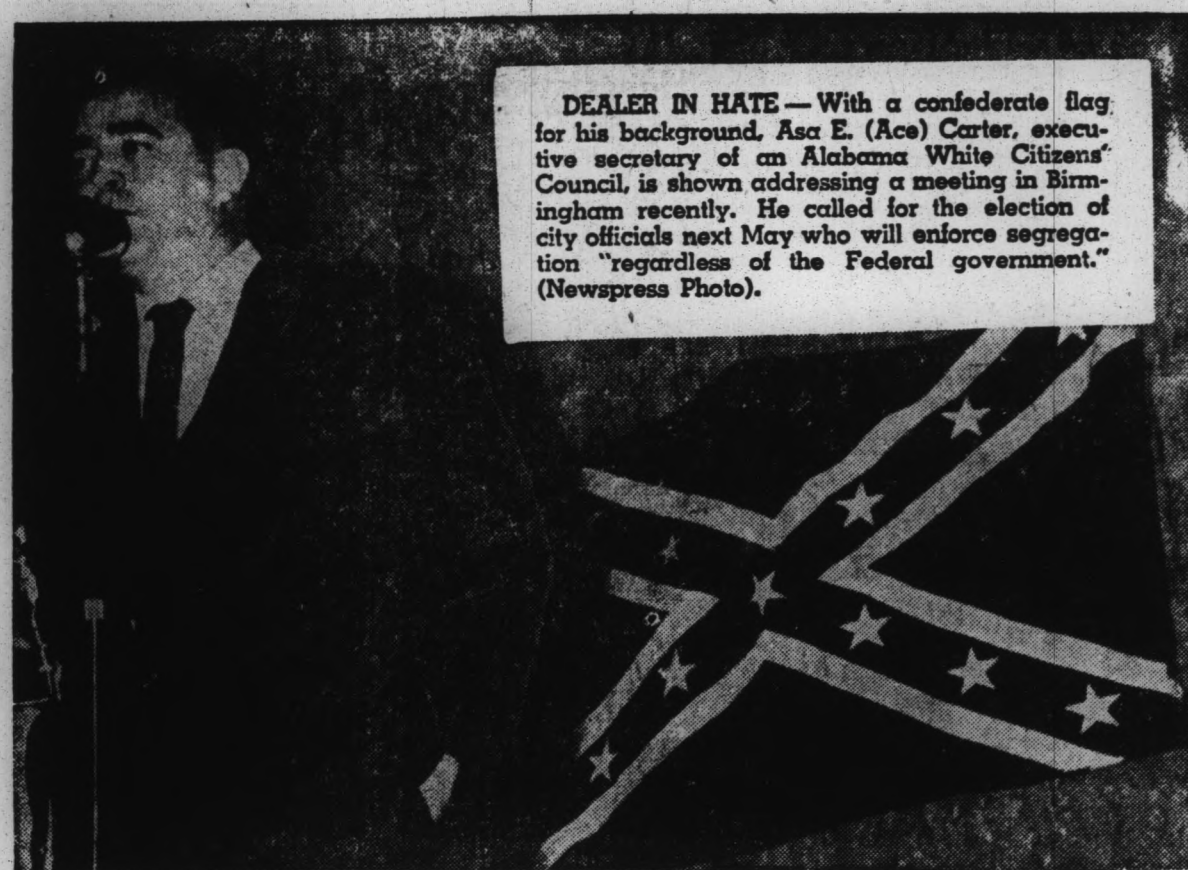

The leaflets, which purported to speak for a segment of the Negro population, were obviously aimed at Rev. King. They referred to "Luther" and said "we get shot at while he rides," the handbills urged: "Wake up. Run him out of town!"

As on a previous occasion, the leaflets, which presumably were the work of pro-segregationists, were distributed before dawn.

So far no faction of the Negro population is known to be favoring Rev. King's ouster.

Since bus segregation was knocked out by federal court ruling, city buses have been fired on five times and a pregnant Negro woman passenger was wounded.

EMMETT TILL KILLERS PUNISHED

The law failed to bring justice in the heartless killing of Emmett Till in the Mississippi "wolf-whistle" case. But the awakening conscience of the South is giving the Till killers a measure of the punishment they deserve. See LOOK MAGAZINE and you'll be amazed by the measures which many Mississippians—both whites and Negroes alike—have taken to make life difficult for Milam and Bryant, the killers of Emmett Till. The full story is in the new issue of LOOK.
